Borough Budget About $8 Million; Tax Hike 4 Cents

Princeton Borough Council has passed a $2.8 million departmental operating budget for 1985, a figure approximately $450,000 over the 1984 figure. This amount does not include the Borough's share of joint agency financing and other expenditures, such as pensions. The total Borough budget will probably be in the area of $8 million.

The municipal tax rate has not yet been finalized. However, the working figure appears to be 54 cents per hundred dollars of assessed valuation, up from 48 cents last year.

It appears likely that the $450,000 increase in departmental expenditures can be obtained through sources other than taxation. About $170,000 of new monies needed will be provided through a net gain in the joint Borough-Township budgets. Additional funds might come from several other sources.

Court Won't Hear Air Rights Appeal

The New Jersey Supreme Court has refused to hear Gerald Boswell's appeal against Princeton Borough's sale of the air rights over Palmer Square East to Collins Development Corporation.

This was the final legal action in a series of suits brought against Collins over its Palmer Square development. In October, the Appellate Division of State Superior Court had unanimously ruled against Mr. Boswell and had upheld the Borough's right to sell the air rights.

The $120,000 air rights payment is to go into a housing trust fund that will be used to construct and rehabilitate low and moderate income housing in Princeton.

Township Moves to Acquire Peterson Tract To Implement Affordable Housing Program

Township Committee has taken the first step in implementing an affordable housing program.

Monday night Committee introduced an ordinance to appropriate $11,000 to be turned over to Princeton Community Housing (PCH) for acquiring an option on the Peterson tract. The public hearing before final adoption will be Monday, February 25.

According to Township Mayor Winthrop S. Pike, the private, non-profit community organization has been conducting negotiations with Dr. and Mrs. Chester Peterson for the purchase of the triangular 26-acre tract off Route 206 and Hillside Avenue. The price and the terms have not been set as yet.

The parcel is zoned RH and is one of the tracts designed under the Township's new affordable housing ordinance to be developed at a density of 12-units per acre by a housing trust or housing fund that is yet to be set up.

"We're putting our money where our mouth is," commented Mayor Pike as Committee voted unanimously to introduce the ordinance. Township Attorney Edwin W. Schmierer cautioned Committee that there are some legal technicalities yet to be worked out. They involve whether the Township is legally allowed to give money to a non-profit organization which in turn would pay the Petersons for the option.

"The mechanics may have to shift slightly," Mr.

Schmierer said, but he said he was working out the details with bond counsel.

According to Harriet Bryan, president of the 25-member PCH board, the option is for 18 months and is renewable for an additional 18 months. This would give PCH three years in which to develop an affordable housing program for the tract.

Mrs. Bryan says that Dr. and Mrs. Peterson have a strong interest in seeing the land developed for affordable housing and also are interested in having a community group rather than the municipality or an outside developer do the developing.

Many Pending Construction Projects May Be Affected by Sewer Problems

The Sewer Operating Committee has been asked to submit a comprehensive plan outlining the steps it plans to take to alleviate sewer overflows by July 1, 1988.

The request came in the form of a letter from Leroy T. Cattaneo, acting chief of the Bureau of Municipal Waste Management in the Division of Water Resources, to Martin T. Doward, SOC manager.

The request follows an earlier letter which permitted developer Benedict Yedlin to construct a "dry" sewer extension but not to connect it to serve the 37 single family homes he proposes until the replacement of a section of the Mountain Brook trunk line presently under construction is completed. Moreover, DEP in granting the sewer extension permit, stipulated that the trunk line replacement must be operating for six months without "significant" overflows upstream of the metering station on Alexander Road.

Taken together, the two letters may be seen to constitute a ban on the granting of further sewer extension and thus on further development after stiffer DEP guidelines went into effect on July 1. If that is the case, then several pending projects, in addition to the Yedlin subdivision, that received approval from the Planning Board after July 1 but had not applied for or received a sewer extension permit from the state could be affected.

These include G.R.D. Associates 25 single family homes on Great Road East; Thanet Associates 50,000 square-foot office building on Thanet Road off Terhune Road; and Toll Brothers 30 single family homes off Route 206. If it is a ban, and if it is in effect until all overflows are eliminated, it could have consequences for Collins Development Hulfish North, to start construction this summer, and for Princeton Community the Library where Griggs Corner Amoco is now located.

Approximately 300 units could be built on the 26-acre parcel, under a density of 12 units an acre. PCH is interested in a mix of housing types and styles, Mrs. Bryan says, including some apartments, some townhouses and some single family homes. "We hope to make it as high a percentage of affordable housing as possible," she says, adding that "it's going to take a lot of research."

PCH will be "reaching out" for this research, Mrs. Bryan says, and establishing a separate advisory council of developers and builders from this and other communities that have had experience in building low and moderate income housing. She says she is "excited" by the prospect of what she believes will be a "pioneering project."

"It will be exciting to see what a municipality can do given the cooperation of the town council and the private sector," she said.

Earlier in January, Township Committee voted unanimously to constitute itself as the Princeton Housing Board, an even earlier first step in implementing the affordable housing ordinance. The Princeton Housing Board is the entity that will in turn set up the housing trust or housing fund which will actually carry out the affordable housing program on certain designated RH sites. The housing board also appoints the members of the housing trust.

Trial Postponed In a related development, the trial of the portion of the Mount Laurel suit dealing with the development fee as a part of the affordable housing ordinance was postponed when Judge Eugene Serpente of Toms River called in sick with the flu. Mr. Schmeier says the judge's calendar is somewhat backed up, but that he expects a new date for hearing arguments pertaining to the development to be set within the next week or two. At that time he expects the date for the main body of the trial, postponed from January 28, to be reset.

Meanwhile, too, the Planning Board has sent a memorandum to Township Committee advising of the Site Selection Committee's conclusion that it would be better to postpone amending the affordable housing ordinance until after the trial is completed and the fair share number is determined. The memorandum was from Duggan Kimball, planning director, on behalf of the Site Selection Committee.

When the affordable housing ordinance was adopted in November, public opposition prompted Township Committee to remand the ordinance to the Planning Board for re-examination of the suitability of several of the sites, overall density and equitable distribution.

The three issues are: the trically interrelated, not only one to the other, but, most importantly to the fair share number" and pointed out that until the fair share number is officially determined, it will be impossible to know to what degree changes can be made.

Air Rights Suit

Borough As part of last fall's settlement of the Witherspoon Jackson Development Corporation suit against Collins and the Borough, the developer agreed to accelerate payment of these monies.

This decision was made with the understanding that Mr. Boswell would not pursue his appeal. However, three weeks after the settlement was announced, he changed his mind and asked the Supreme Court to hear his case.

At that time, Collins Vice President Gary Green said that the company would revert to the original payment structure — a slower schedule and one in which most of the money would not be paid until the fifth year — because of legal fees it would have to pay as a result of Mr. Boswell's action. Mr. Green said that there are no plans to accelerate the payment schedule in light of the Supreme Court's rejection of Mr. Boswell's appeal.

"We had said that if Boswell would drop the suit we would accelerate the payments. He didn't drop it and we will not revert to the accelerated payments," said Mr. Green.

Mr. Boswell's efforts to block the sale of the air rights over Palmer Square East led to a six to eight month delay in completing the additions to the Nassau Inn. The air rights will be used for a four-story structure linking the old and new sections of the inn.

Mr. Green said that Princeton has been the significant loser. "If this had not happened, the new construction would have been completed by now. Until we had been successful in the lower courts we couldn't proceed because of financing problems."

Moving Funds from One Pocket to Another, Township Expects Tax Increase to Be Just 2¢

Between January 12, when the first Township budget session was held and last Monday night, when Township Committee introduced the proposed 1985 Municipal Budget, the Township Administrator and Committee were able to reduce that budget so that the proposed increase in the tax rate is only two cents.

On January 12, Township Administrator James Pascale estimated the municipal tax rate would be 43 cents per $100 of assessed valuation, an increase of 5.5 cents over the 1984 tax rate of 37.5 cents. How was Mr. Pascale able to lower the rate three cents to 40 cents per $100 of assessed valuation for 1985?

By lowering certain appropriations, is his answer. First of all $100,000 was taken out of the capital improvement fund, which is where the money comes from for the requisite five percent down payment on capital expenditures, such as road improvements, that are paid for by bond anticipation notes. Township Committee still plans a hefty menu of capital projects, ranging from sewer rehabilitation, road resurfacing, affordable housing land acquisitions, computerization of municipal offices, building improvements and public safety projects.

But it reduced the amount originally intended for affordable housing land acquisition from $1.2 million to $700,000, and was able to spread the cost of two studies over several years. Of the two studies, for a combined total of $116,000, one is for transportation management analysis (road and traffic improvements that will be needed due primarily to office development), and the other is for pavement analysis.

Residents Used Less Water. In addition to major reductions in the capital improvement fund, the Township will benefit in 1985 from the fact that its residents used less water — for reasons that are not entirely clear — in 1984 than in previous years, and less than the Borough. Therefore the Township's share of SBSRA treatment costs and debt service adjustment is less — by some $300,000, Mr. Pascale notes.

And third, by keeping the sewer user fee at $3.21 per 100 cubic feet, thus anticipating more sewer revenue than originally planned, Mr. Pascale is able to keep the — without the county and school portions, which are not yet known — is, as noted, 40 cents per $100 of assessed valuation, or two cents (five percent) higher than in 1984.

The owner of a house with an assessed valuation of $100,000 will pay $20 more on the municipal portion of his tax bill than he or she did in 1984. For the owner of a house in the $300,000 category, the difference will be $60.

Source of Increases. The major increases in the Township budget are due to the first of four installments on the Township's share of the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority (SBRSA) underbidding; a six percent across-the-board salary increase; a new patrolman to be hired in the Police Department; capital improvements listed above; higher interest charges because of the underbidding and sewer rehabilitation, and more money for leaf collection and summer road crew.

Offsetting these increases are a reduction in SBRSA treatment costs; a reduction in insurance costs for personnel; and a reduction in dumping fees when the transfer station is closed June 30. On the revenue side, the Township experienced more interest income in 1984, and an increase in building fees due to construction activity and court fees due to new drunk driving laws.

In formulating the budget according to the Cap law, Mr. Pascale, with the blessing of Committee, used the index rate of 6.5 percent, rather than the five percent ceiling over the previous year's appropriations. This was done in order to help build up a surplus in the budget for unforeseen contingencies, he said.

Committeeman William Cherry, noting that the state had postponed the deadline by which a municipality must file its budget until March 15, suggested that Committee postpone introducing the budget. Mr. Cherry wanted to use the interval to attempt to get the Borough to address the problem of parking at the Library, which he feels is unduly costly and "deleterious" to Township users.

TOPICS Of The Town

municipal tax rate down while simultaneously generating as much as $100,000 in surplus which can be used to offset higher appropriations, such as debt service on bonded sewer repairs, in future years.

Committeeman William Cherry objected to this tactic, preferring instead to see sewer revenue tied more closely to appropriations, but he was overruled. Mr. Pascale says that using what amounts to a bookkeeping tactic in order to prevent wide fluctuations in the sewer user fee is permitted because there is no separate utility involved.

Sewer collection and treatment are carried out by two separate entities, and sewer revenue becomes a revenue just like any other in the municipal budget, he says.

These, then, are the major — and somewhat technical — reasons why the 1985 Township budget totals less than originally proposed. What is that total, and what will the taxpayer have to pay?

The proposed budget totals $7.7 million, or $267,702, or 3.6 percent more than in 1984. The amount to be raised by taxation is $2.6 million, or 8.5 percent higher than in 1984. The estimated municipal tax rate

Sympathetic to his concerns, his colleagues on Committee felt such negotiations with the Borough would take a long time and should not hold up introduction of the Township budget. Somewhat mollified by their expressions of agreement with his concerns, he voted yes for budget introduction, along with the other four members of Committee.

A public hearing on the 1985 Township budget will be held Monday, March 4, at 8 p.m. in the Valley Road building.

INCUMBENTS TO RUN

For School Board. Borough representatives Ann McGoldrick and Karen Woodbridge, whose terms on the Princeton Regional School Board of Education expire this year, are planning to run again. Penny Raskerville, a Township representative whose three-year term is also ending, is not yet certain of her plans.

The three seats open, two for the Borough and one for the Township, are for full three-year terms.

Mrs. McGoldrick will be running for her third term. A former school board president she feels she is experienced and has a contribution to make. "This is probably the last time I'll run, and there is still lots to be accomplished," she said.

Mrs. Woodbridge, who has served one term, stated that she wants to continue to be a part of the district's planning process. A member of the State School Board Association's Legislative Committee, she said she would like to continue her lobbying efforts on behalf of Princeton's Board of Education and to improve New Jersey's schools.

A combination of full-time employment, a weekend job, and having young children may cause Ms. Baskerville to choose not to run. "I haven't completely said no," she said. "There are so many issues out there, and I would like to be in the middle of them." She has served one full term.

Filing deadline for the April 2 school board election is February 21 at 4 p.m. Nominating petitions may be obtained in the Board Secretary's office, Valley Road Building, from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. To date, no one has officially filed.

EXEMPTION REVOKED

On Conversion. The State Department of Community Affairs has decided that the owner of 10 Bayard Lane, Harmon Ashley, did not follow proper procedures in his efforts to convert the building to condominium ownership.

This led to a decision last week to revoke an exemption from full disclosure that had been previously granted to Mr. Ashley. The exemption, usually granted to buildings of under nine apartments, frees the owner from following the full rules on conversion contained in the Planned Real Estate Development Full Disclosure Act. These run about 45 typed pages. The Bayard Lane building contains nine apartments.

The state charges that Mr. Ashley did not properly notify his tenants of the planned conversion and did not provide the necessary documents. Several tenants had complained to state officials on this matter.

When the exemption was revoked, Mr. Ashley and his attorney, Gordon Strauss,

A meeting to discuss the elements of a workable regional plan and other planning issues has been organized by the League of Women Voters of Mercer County. It will be held on Wednesday, February 13, at 7:30 p.m. in the Hyatt Regency on Route 1. Both the public and area officials are encouraged to attend.

Alan Karcher, speaker of the New Jersey Assembly, will discuss his proposal to set up a Central Corridor District Development Board to oversee the development on Route 1. Princeton University Professor Richard Nathan, director of the Princeton Urban and Regional Research Center, will describe the theoretical framework of regional planning.

The League's December conference on regional planning was attended by many of the area's municipal officials and planners.

capacity of the parking lot which had been at the garage location. Once the Palmer Square expansion is completed, Mr. Green continued, there will be 274 more parking spaces in the Borough than there had been prior to the expansion.

Rates for the garage have been established at 50 cents for the first hour and 50 cents for each additional half hour, with a maximum rate of $5 any 24-hour period. Parkway Corporation of Philadelphia will operate the garage.

Monthly rates will be $90 for a reserved space, $70 for a monthly space, and $65 for monthly parking excluding weekend use. Monthly spaces will be limited. The Hulfish Lot will be closed for all but monthly parkers, and the monthly rate there will be $65.

Mr. Green expressed optimism that utilization of the garage will help alleviate the parking problems experienced in the Borough's downtown area.

"More and more municipalities — and shoppers within those municipalities — are looking toward parking garages as a solution to lack of adequate on-street parking," he said.

The opening of the parking facility signifies the completion of the first new structure of Palmer Square's $80 million expansion.

Monday Is PHS Band Day

By proclamation, Township Mayor Winthrop S. Pike has set Monday, February 11, as Princeton High School Band Day in honor of the 33 musicians in the Princeton High School Band who played for an inaugural ball at the inauguration of President Reagan.

white male named Pip. Both wore beige canvas collars that had white plastic discs which contained the owner's identification.

The slicer, weighing between 75 and 100 pounds, was taken overnight during the weekend from the kitchen of the Cloister Club on Prospect Avenue. Police report no forced entry.

Age was no deterrent to the thief who towed away a 1966 Chevrolet last week from a rear yard of a Spruce Street home where it was being stored.

While a student was attending a party at Tiger Inn on Prospect Avenue early Saturday morning during Bicker Week, someone stole her orange Princeton parka jacket valued at $50 from a coat room. Inside were a pair of glasses valued at $80 and a $20 cosmetic case.

A resident of Canada visiting Princeton reported the theft of his coat, gloves and scarf with a combined value of $137. He told police that he had placed his coat over a chair in the Palmer Room at the Nassau Inn. It was taken between 4:30 and 7:45 the next morning.

Two Wallets Stolen. In one of two wallet thefts, an employee of H. Gross & Co., One Palmer Square, had her wallet containing $190 removed from her purse while it was hanging on a hook in the employees' lounge. The wallet was later found on Olden Avenue minus the money and returned to the victim.

A Prospect Avenue resident told police that someone last week had removed $85 from his wallet which was in his jacket in an unlocked locker at the Princeton Nautilus Fitness Center in the Princeton Shopping Center.

Another Princeton resident joined the list of theft victims when someone removed her purse from a cloth bag which she had left next to a desk in an office at the Jewish Center on Nassau Street.

She lost $20, a $15 credit card holder and her $10 purse.

A 35mm camera with a zoom lens, valued at $199.98, was removed from the rear seat of an unlocked car last week while it was parked in the Cleveland Tower lot on the Graduate School campus. The victim is an employee of the Graduate School and a resident of Kendall Park.

Cash Box Taken at PDS. A cash box containing $160 was stolen last week from a locked closet in the cafeteria of Princeton Day School. Township police report no sign of forced entry into the building and add the lock was missing from the closet door. Nothing else was taken.

Someone entered the kitchen area of the Lewis Clinic for Educational Therapy on Magnolia Lane last week and took $138 from a cabinet. Police said $25 was money from a coke machine and the rest was money that had been kept in a cash box.

read, "Jeff — This is for all the times we left money in the coke machine and didn't get the money back."

A Quickie. A Princeton resident can confirm how quickly something can be stolen.

While she was removing snow from her bicycle on Witherspoon Street Thursday morning, she placed her vinyl satchel bag on the sidewalk. As she did so, someone grabbed her bag, which contained personal items worth $48.30. A booster equalizer worth $15 was taken from the car of a Princeton University student while it was parked Saturday in the rear of the Cloister Club on Prospect Avenue. Also taken was the car's front license plate.

RALPH HULIT RETIRES FROM SHOE BUSINESS: Ralph Hulit (fourth from left), who has probably lifted more children with their first pair of shoes than any other person in Princeton's history, retired the first of the year as president of Hulit's Shoes. At a surprise party in his honor at the store Sunday, Mr. Hulit, who began working in the store some 40 years ago after his discharge from the U.S. Navy, was joined by family, friends and his three sisters and two brothers, all pictured above. From left are Warren "Pete" Hulit, Lillian Hall and Nellie Meyers, all of whom still work at Hulit's, Mr. Hulit, Clara Simone, a former worker at the store, and Gus Hulit, owner of The Cummins Shop, a few doors up Nassau Street from the shoe store.

expensive cars, all locked, were entered last week without force, indicating, police said, that someone is using a car tool to slip the lock catch. All the thefts took place on Monday.

A $275 stereo unit was removed from a Princeton resident's Mercedes while it was parked in the Palmer Square lot off Hulfish, and a Walkman stereo was removed from the glove compartment of another Mercedes owned by a Cranbury resident while it was parked in the YMCA lot.

unit from an Audi also parked at the Y. The car's console was broken in an attempt to remove the brackets securing the stereo which is valued at more than $300. Police found a pair of gloves at the scene and believe the thief was frightened off.

Earlier in the week, police received a call reporting a black male in his 20s was looking through various cars in a lot on Maclean Street. He was seen entering one car but he left it before police arrived without taking anything.

CIGARETTE BLAMED For Bedroom Fire, A

There was an unsuccessful cigarette is blamed for attempt to remove a stereo igniting the contents of a waste basket in the bedroom of a home at 15 Mason Drive last week and causing a fire.

The fire, discovered at 8:10 Monday morning by owner Frederic Kreisler's daughter, had spread to an adjacent vanity and curtain and was extinguished by a combined effort of members of the family, police and Fire Chief Thomas Hagadorn from Engine Company No. 1. Police report there was extensive damage to the floor, vanity and curtains.

Garage Fire. Borough police report a fire in an garage attached to a Robert Road home at 8:21 Sunday evening.

400 Parking Spaces Added at Princeton Junction

New Jersey Transit is planning to add up to 400 new temporary parking spaces at the Princeton Junction railroad station. These will compensate for the 300-plus spaces that will be lost during the construction of the new station. They will be located on Vaughn Drive, on a wooded lot close to, but not within, the flood plain area. The parking spaces will be installed in 50 car increments, as trees are cleared and the area is prepared.

Work on preparation of the first 50 will begin toward the end of February. All 400 spots will be ready for use by the end of April, according to Wayne Johnson, director of community relations for New Jersey Transit.

The parking will be on land owned by New Jersey Transit and eyed by Collins Development Corporation for the past several years as a site for an office complex. Negotiations between Collins and New Jersey Transit are continuing, and Collins Vice President Gary Green is optimistic about their success.

New Jersey Transit, which has identified the Trenton-Newark line as one of the major growth ridership lines in New Jersey, and has designated Princeton Junction as a "key station," is looking at other ways to ease the parking problem that will be aggravated by the construction of the new station.

Transit officials have been meeting with officials of West

Windsor Township. These talks, according to Assistant Township Administrator Bob Bruschi, have been going much better than they had gone originally. "Now they're talking," he said.

In addition to attempting to find ways to increase parking at Princeton Junction, New Jersey Transit has been studying the idea of a bus shuttle from a parking area to the station. The study is expected to be completed shortly.

The actual construction of the new station probably will not begin until sometime in March. The Somers Construction Co. of Warminster, Pa., builders of the new $5 million station building, have 400 days in which to complete the work.

Upon arrival, Ptl. Ronald Wohlschlegel saw flames spreading from the floor to the ceiling of the garage. He managed to put most of the blaze out with a powder extinguisher from his patrol car before two fire engines arrived. Damage was confined to burning papers and rags and to smoke damage inside the house.

Police report that hot ashes from a fireplace had been placed in a bag and taken to the garage. Within an hour's time, the bag had ignited.

PAPERHANGER SOUGHT

In Bad Check Incidents. A woman who cashed four bogus checks in two stores in the Princeton Shopping Center on four separate occasions in December is being sought by the Township police.

The suspect, Roseann Engler, who gave an address of 422 Columbus Avenue, Trenton, cashed two checks at the Super Fresh Market for a total of $341.68 on December 17 and 30. After unsuccessful attempts to reach Ms. Engler, the store manager signed a complaint against her.

Police said that Ms. Engler also cashed two checks for a total of $175.65 on December 12 and 22 at the Pants Saloon.

Captain Jack Petrone said that the suspect had used an Edinburgh Road address but a check revealed no such person living there. Mail there had been forwarded to the Columbus Avenue address which is the residence of the suspect's sister. All attempts to reach Ms. Engler, however, have been unsuccessful.

TOWNSHIP IS SCENE

Of Skidding Accidents. Icy roadways — the bane of winter drivers — caused five skidding accidents in the Township last week.

Walter L. Jenkins, 47, of Meadow Lane, lost control of his car on an icy section of Mercer Road Friday morning some 300 feet from Gallup Road. When his car skidded into a pole, Mr. Jenkins had to be treated at Princeton Medical Center for lacerations of the face.

Less than an hour earlier at 7:10, Carolyn Haase of 30 Orchard Lane had spun out of control after crossing the bridge on Washington Road. A Toms River driver coming in the opposite direction saw her car coming at him. He applied the brakes of his pickup truck which caused it to skid into the Haase car. There were no injuries.

At 1:14 Sunday morning, 25-year-old Joseph K. Wright of Princeton Junction skidded on ice and struck the guard rail of the Washington Road Bridge near the Faculty Road intersection. He was not injured.

A half-hour later at 1:45 Carol Fischer, 24, 649 Lawrenceville Road, traveling south on Route 27, skidded on an icy portion of the roadway between River Road and Dodds Lane. She escaped injury when her car struck a service pole, but was charged by Ptl. John Clausen with leaving the scene of an accident.

Saturday evening, a car operated by 17-year-old Natalka Artemenko of Parsippany left the 206 roadway near Edgerstone and struck a utility pole. Her 1977 sedan had to be towed.

Miss Artemenko was taken to Princeton Medical Center for treatment of minor injuries and charged with careless driving by Ptl. James Vandermark.

Pedestrian Struck. In the Borough, a 46-year-old pedestrian was struck by a skidding car Friday morning as she walked along the shoulder of the Harrison Street roadway, 150 feet from Nassau Street.

The victim, Maria C. Zullo, 200 S. Harrison Street, told police she was walking in the snow next to the roadway because there are no sidewalks in that area when a car skidded into her and knocked her down. She was taken to the Medical Center for treatment for contusions of the buttocks and released.

There were no charges against the driver, Kevin W. Robinson, 23, 31 Tupelo Row, who told Ptl. Dennis McManimon that after his car began to slide, it skidded sideways into the pedestrian.

TRENTON ROUNDUP

The New Jersey Senate has passed a bill designed to help communities provide low and moderate income housing. The measure, a response to the Mt. Laurel II court decision mandating that municipalities in growth areas provide such housing, is designed to protect communities from the housing quotas that have resulted from the court's decision.

There was no Republican support for the bill, which passed 22 to 17. The Republican minority had unsuccessfully attempted to include a moratorium on further lawsuits by builders who have been successfully using the court decision to attack municipal zoning laws that limit density.

Republican leaders in the Assembly also called for passage of a constitutional amendment limiting the power of the State Supreme Court to order municipalities to provide housing for their own poor and for workers who might be brought into communities by new business development.

The recently passed measure would allow towns to develop their own plans for providing low and moderate income housing and submit them for certification to a new nine-member State Council on Affordable Housing.

It would also permit municipalities to meet up to a third of their responsibility to construct such housing by agreeing to rehabilitate existing low-income housing in neighboring towns.

Under the bill, any municipality that receives approval from the new housing council would be given protection from builders' lawsuits. The measure also calls for appropriating $25 million for a Fair Housing Trust Fund to subsidize efforts to build more affordable housing. An additional $38 million would be transferred to the fund from state realty transfer fees.

The proposed legislation now goes to the Assembly, which also has a Democratic majority. Governor Kean, who has called for a legislative response to Mt. Laurel, has not taken a position on the bill.

Also in Trenton, Governor Kean is expected to introduce the nation's first statewide mandatory recycling bill by the end of February. Princeton Borough's recycling plans recently ground to a halt when no carter could be found who was interested in curbside pickup of recyclables. Princeton Township currently maintains a shed at the shopping center for voluntary recycling.

TWO JUVENILES CHARGED

For Alcohol, Marijuana. Two 15-year-old Township youths have been charged as minors in possession of alcohol and with possession of marijuana and drug paraphernalia.

They were processed by the Township Juvenile Officer Peter Savalli and later released to the custody of their parents.

The two were observed Friday night on Rosedale Road by Sgt. Anthony Gaylord who noticed the youths had bottles of beer in their possession.

The officer stopped them, arrested them and transported them to police headquarters. There the youths were also found to be in possession of marijuana and a marijuana pipe.

Shoplifter Flushed. A Trenton resident, Anthony Hightower, 23, has been charged with shoplifting and will appear in Borough Court February 20.

Hightower was observed last week placing a package of four Bic butane lighters in his jacket by the manager of Davidson's Market on Nassau Street. The item has a $2.29 value.

FIVE CARS ENTERED

At Service Station. Five customer cars parked at Larim's Service Station, 272 Alexander Street, were broken into last week.

Taken from the cars were radios, cassettes, and glove compartment contents with a combined value of approximately $600. Police said that most of the locked cars had been entered by breaking a vent window. The thefts were discovered in the morning when the station opened for business.

TEN ARE FINED

In Borough Court. Ten Princeton area residents were fined Monday in Borough traffic court by Judge Russell W. Annich Jr.

They are Martina Kinney, 384 Ewing Street, $60, speeding; Denise J. Diamond, 24 Wheatsheaf Lane, $60, failure to give proper signal; Mary E. Devlin of Lawrenceville, $70, stop sign; John J. Horn, 3 Boulder Lane, $60, red light; Henning Anderson, 89 Einstein Drive, $60, speeding; Rosalyn Goldberg, 51 Bainbridge Street, and Gregory D. DiMeglio, 18 Millstone Road, Cranbury, both $60, U-turn; John Allen, 141 Holder Hall, Princeton University, $35, failure to cross at a crosswalk; Karl H. Friedeborn, 993 Lawrence Road, Lawrenceville, $60, red light; and Charles Costello, 4 Millbrook Lane, Lawrenceville, $215, open container of alcohol in a motor vehicle. Mr. Costello also paid $115 for allowing an unlicensed driver to operate.

In Township court last week William C. Glenn, 400B Devereux, was fined $65 for speeding.

Charged With DWI. Allen L. Smith, 22, 58 Aiken Avenue, was charged with driving while intoxicated, after he was stopped at 10:32 Monday night on Witherspoon Street by Sgt. Anthony Gaylord for erratic driving.

Mr. Allen was taken to police headquarters, given a Breathalyzer test and later released to his father.

Varied Events to Mark Black History Month Here

A number of lectures and exhibitions have been planned by area colleges and cultural organizations in celebration of Black History Month.

The Adult Department of the YWCA, Paul Robeson Place, in conjunction with a group of black women artists, has a visual display on view honoring Black Women in the Arts.

Toi Derricotte, 1984 winner of a National Endowment of the Arts award, will read from her book of poems, Natural Birth (Crossings Press, N.Y.) on Thursday at 8 at the Arts Council, 102 Witherspoon Street.

Ms. Derricotte was also awarded a fellowship in poetry from the New Jersey State Council of the Arts in 1953 and is a teacher in the New Jersey State Artists resident program, training others to teach poetry. She was a fellow at the MacDowell Colony in New Hampshire and was first place winner on two occasions in the Academy of American Poets competition.

She has read at the Williams Center for the Arts and the Trenton City Museum, as well as at the Manhattan Theatre Club and at the Writers Voice in New York City.

The Rev. William Deveau, director of the Fund For Theological Education, will speak on "Religion and the Black Experience" Sunday at 3 at the Arts Council, 102 Witherspoon Street. The day will also mark the opening reception for the Arts Council's exhibition on black artisans.

Later in the month, the Arts Council will sponsor a lecture-demonstration by Lenwood Sloan, black dance historian and consultant for the Brooklyn Academy of Music, a performance by a storyteller, and a break-dancing exhibition. For further information call 924-8777.

Georgia State Senator Julian Bond and author-lecturer Alex Haley will highlight Rider College's Black History Month activities in February.

Sen. Bond will speak Tuesday, February 19, at 8 p.m. in the Student Center Theater, Lawrenceville. Mr. Haley, best known for his book Roots, will lecture Monday, February 25.

A one-man performance based on the poems of Langston Hughes will be presented at Rutgers University's Douglass College on Wednesday, February 13.

"The Dreamkeeper Speaks: The World of Langston Hughes" will feature actor John Patterson presenting a selection of the black poet's work, including political and protest poems, character sketches, social comment and tone poems. The works span the decades from the 1920s to the '60s.

Free and open to the public, the program will begin at 8 p.m. in Voorhees Chapel, located on Chapel Drive near the junction of George Street and Nichol Avenue, New Brunswick.

Black novelist James Baldwin will be the guest speaker Wednesday, February 13, at 6 in the Rutgers Student Center on College Avenue, New Brunswick. The title of his talk will be "A World I Never Made." It is free and open to the public.

A conference entitled "Not Without Laughter: Humor in the Thought and Past of Afro-Americans" will be held Saturday, February 16, from 8:30 to 5 at the Paul Robeson Campus Center, Rutgers University.

The program includes morning coffee, lunch and an evening wine-and-cheese reception. Highlights include Esther Rolle lecturing on "The Role of the comedian in Afro-American Life: A Personal Perspective"; Daryl Cumber Dance, teacher and author, commenting on the role of the black comedian; an Amos 'n' Andy television episode, Lawrence W. Levine, professor at the University of California, lecturing on the "Functions of Black Humor" and Norma Miller performing a comedy routine.

Dr. Samuel D. Proctor, professor emeritus, Rutgers University, will speak Sunday, February 24, at 3, at the South Brunswick High School Auditorium, Major Road, Monmouth Junction in a Black History Month observation sponsored by the South Brunswick Cultural Arts Commission and Concerned Black Parents and Citizens of South Brunswick. There will also be contemporary gospel and traditional spirituals by Carl and Earl Jenkins.

There is no charge.

liaisons are Barbara Cantrill of Township Committee and Mildred Trotman of Borough Council.

Joan Hill, executive director of the Joint Commission, handles the day-to-day complaints of discrimination in the areas of housing, employment, education, police-community relations and public accommodations. The office also offers a skills bank for unemployed residents of Princeton.

The Commission's office is located in Borough Hall. The phone number is 924-7138.

Commission meetings are held on the third Tuesday of every month at Borough Hall and are open to the public.

NEW MAP AVAILABLE
Includes Neighboring Towns. The League of Women Voters of the Princeton Area has published the sixth edition of its "Map of Princeton Borough and Township." In its 18th year of publication, the map clearly delineates the Borough and Township boundaries, voting districts, open space and parks, and it also identifies 45 points of interest. An alphabetical street guide helps locate Princeton's 327 streets. Karen Woodbridge was the map editor.

In planning the new map, the league discovered that there were no companion maps of Princeton's closest neighboring communities or the University on any Princeton maps. The latest edition of the League's "Princeton Map" includes maps, alphabetical street indexes and voting districts for Montgomery, Rocky Hill and West Windsor. It also includes a campus map of Princeton University which shows buildings and parking lots.

"Our purpose was twofold," Mrs. Woodbridge says. "One was to make traveling in and around Princeton as easy as possible and two was to show voting districts in the municipalities served by the Princeton Area League of Women Voters."

Every effort was made to have the individual maps as up to date as possible. Changes had to be made even as the map was in production. The most recent street added in Princeton was Richard Court, across from the high school off Houghton Road.

West Windsor proved to be the most difficult to keep Harrison St. the Connector.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Last Thursday, Mayor Sigmond held a public meeting with County and DOT officials to discuss proposed Route 1 entrances into Princeton. This was a greatly appreciated opportunity to tell DOT that Princeton does not want the Harrison Street Bridge widened or Harrison Street to become a major traffic artery.

I was shocked and alarmed at the DOT planning experts' lack of information about DOT proposals to realign Route 206

Picture a bow and arrow. In the realignment, 206 is the bow and S-92 is the arrow. The bottom of the bow (realigned 206) begins just north of Ewing Street. It bows out west, over the Ridge, intersects Cherry Valley Road, continues behind the airport and swings back to rejoin the existing 206 further north at the County Line Inn. S-92 shoots straight through Nassau-Conover Motors and meets realigned 206 at an above-grade intersection.

The bottom of the bow will feed directly into Harrison Street, turning it into the Princeton Speedway.

Residents of Harrison, Ewing, 206, Cherry Valley and the northeast region of Princeton Township should be wary.

Even if DOT does not make the "improvements" to e-widening) of Harrison Street or the Bridge, there will be a Super Highway running from S-92 and Montgomery across Harrison to Route 1. Traffic that doesn't go across Harrison will continue south on 206 into a giant bottleneck at Bayard Lane into the Borough.

DOT apparently has not made the "connection" between the "improvements" for Route 1 and Route 206. We have its name is Harrison Street.

At Thursday's meeting, one resident asked the DOT planner about the relationship among all the "improvements." Lamentably, he had no information about plans for any roads other than "his." Evidently, one department of the DOT simply does not know what the other is doing.

After the meeting, the resident's criticism was challenged by the DOT planner. Again, she and others asked him basic questions, such as "What is DOT's purpose for the 206 realignment?" and "What will be the impact on Harrison Street of realigning 206?"

Incredibly, the DOT planner again admitted that he "was not privy to the information" and, therefore, could not answer the question.

I am greatly alarmed that the DOT plans major road improvements in a vacuum. I am shocked that the DOT has not realized that these road "improvements" will only bring more development along their routes. The traffic generated by such development will end up choking Princeton.

I urge Township Committee to actively campaign against these plans. Furthermore, a public meeting addressing these problems is necessary.

Environmental Problems.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I note the three front page news environmental problems: the cutting of the trees along the canal, the 63 office buildings, and the solid waste disposal difficulty. I am surprised to see no mention of the Stony Brook Millstone Watersheds Association in connection with solutions to any of these problems.

Be that as it may, the solid waste disposal plans particularly dismay me. Are private garbage collectors to be put out of business with the scratch of a governmental pen? Will I then be forced to carry my garbage down the long drive to have an appointed collector pick it up? What do senior citizens do about this?

The population of the Princetons is over 25,000. Will we all be compelled to carry our newspapers, bottles, aluminum, etc. to the shopping center? There might be a traffic jam of over 10,000 of us doing that twice a week, and what about the elderly, and the crippled? What do they do?

I hope the alternative is not that we must have six garbage cans: one for paper, one for green glass, one for brown glass, one for white glass, one for aluminum, and one for, well, garbage.

Thanks from McCarter

To the Editor of Town Topics:

On opening night of any play, there is always a great sense of anticipation, nervousness and excitement. The actors are tense, the stage crew worries about technical details, the director hopes that the play will come across well, even the audience shares some of these feelings.

When the curtain goes down, there is traditionally an opening night party to celebrate the weeks and months of hard work that have made the evening possible. The party is a time to thank the theatre people for their contribution to our entertainment and for them to bask a little in our admiration.

At McCarter Theatre, the role of party-giver has been the purview of the McCarter Associates. We have had wonderful help from the Princeton community. Two local hotels, the Nassau Inn and Scanticon Princeton, have contributed incredibly elaborate and beautiful receptions. These gifts to our Theatre are greatly appreciated.

Four local businesses have also contributed much to the success of the evenings by donating their space (and their helpful staffs) for our parties. We want to thank Bellows, United Jersey Bank N.A., The Hillier Group and Cavendish Associates in this regard. We would also like to include Judy's Flower Shop in our thanks; they have for many years quietly contributed lovely arrangements to our parties.

On behalf of the Associates, the cast, the crew, and everyone else connected with the Theatre, I thank our local business supporters—you are terrific!

Widening Route 206,

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Perhaps it has escaped the notice of many Princetonn Borough residents that the N.J. Department of Transportation is raising the proposed Princeton by-pass (RT 92) as an excuse to reroute and double track the size of Rt. 206 where it enters Princeton Township on the north. As their plans show, the four lanes of 206 would intersect, approximately, at Ewing-Harrison Streets.

This has the potential for bringing in much more traffic than is to be siphoned off by the Princeton by pass, which would have its beginning only at the Princeton Township line on Cherry Valley Road.

ELIZABETH TURKEY
Cherry Valley Road

The Governor Thomas H. Kean Ditch.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I have just returned from a walk along a crudely clear-cut strip of wasteland that until recently was a beautiful tree-tunneled path along Lake Carnegie. Perhaps you remember it. It was part of the Delaware-Raritan Canal Park. Now it has been destroyed, not to return in our lifetimes, in the name of economy and for the convenience of a collection of bureaucrats pompously referred to as The New Jersey Water Supply Authority.

It was delivered to their tender mercies by the State of New Jersey in a political giveaway that was carefully conducted to exclude opposition by those who love the park and who have labored to protect it.

In recognition of the new reality, it is fitting that the path be rededicated as the Governor Thomas H. Kean Ditch, in appreciation for an administration that reckons the price of everything and the value of nothing.

Small wonder that New Jersey is the butt of so many sour jokes. When you are governed like this you have a choice. Do you prefer to laugh or to cry.

"Together for Life"

To the Editor of Town Topics:

There are many people in Princeton who are concerned about the abortion issue. In the United States, there are over 100,000 abortions every year. In Mercer County, there are over 10,000 abortions every year. This is a very high number, especially when you consider that the procedure is not always safe. In fact, it is the most common practiced medical procedure in our country.

These facts are alarming to a growing number of people and are causing a closer examination of the "abortion issue." In Mercer county a number of anti-abortion groups have joined their strength under an umbrella organization called "Together for Life." Because of the media focus on our organization it is important that a clear statement be made concerning our beliefs and purposes:

First, "Together for Life" seeks to educate our community of the terrible consequences of abortion. Studies now show that as high as 85 percent of women who have had the 200,000 abortions that have taken place since 1973 regret their decision. In fact, 10 percent of the women who have had abortions have had serious complications. In fact, 10 percent of the women who have had abortions have had serious complications. In fact, 10 percent of the women who have had abortions have had serious complications.

Second, "Together for Life" will do all that we can to help not only the unborn child but also the mother and father of that child. We will help with counseling, housing and finances. There is no need of a woman facing a crisis pregnancy that we will not seek to meet.

Third, "Together for Life" believes that the law of the land that allows abortion is morally wrong. In 1857 the law of the land said that black people could not be citizens... the law of the land was wrong then. Until 1920, the law of the land forbid women from voting... the law of the land was wrong then. Since 1973, the law of the land has said it is all right to abort unborn children... the law of the land is now wrong.

Finally, "Together for Life" unanimously condemns those who would harm or hurt abortion clinics. We believe that these acts of violence are wrong. We seek change through education, care and support of pro-life legislation. "Together for Life" believes the minister of Princeton after performing 60,000 Presbyterian Church and abortions, that scientifically member of the Board of "human life exists within the womb, from the very onset of pregnancy."

Editor's Note: Ken Smith is

Today counseling center for women facing crisis pregnancies.

Rev. Smith has also organized Together for Life, which is a cooperative partnership of many of the Pro-Life Groups of Mercer County.

IT'S NEW TO US

WATCH A MOVIE!

From Palmer Video, Spend Valentine's Day with your sweetheart watching a movie from Palmer Video, because Thursdays are dollar days at Palmer Video this month! Candi Brina, owner and manager of the movie rental shop in the Princeton Shopping Center, offers a tempting special each month. Ms. Brina has quite a following of movie buffs who have enjoyed the convenience of location, good service and variety of films to rent since her shop opened more than a year ago.

"Business is great. I never expected it to be so good. We now have almost 500 members and more than 1000 titles, with many more to come this month," says Ms. Brina with enthusiasm. Shoppers who exercise regularly at Nautilus or food shop at the big super-markets appreciate Palmer video's location, where parking is never a problem. A handy slot for drop-off of movie rentals is convenient when the shop is closed, although its hours are geared to working people. Renting a movie (for members) for one day costs $2.99, with a $1 charge for each additional day, and $3.49 for a weekend. Think about giving your Valentine a membership. Yearly and lifetime memberships are offered.

Those without a video recorder need not despair! You can still spend an evening or a weekend enjoying a film at home by renting a machine from Palmer Video for $9.95 per night or $19.95 for the whole weekend. Camera rentals are also available for $19.95 per day.

Video repairs can often be a problem in town. Palmer Video fixes Beta and VHS recorders.

New Children's Section. Ms. Brina is enthusiastic about her new children's section of movies which will be greatly expanded in the coming weeks. The classics for children are well represented in the shop, and often difficult to find on television. "Winnie the Pooh" and "Beany" complete with stuffed animal, are for sale in the shop, as are several exercise tapes, great gifts for fitness-conscious valentines. A complete selection of Elvii Presby tapes, published in commemoration of his 50th birthday, is available. They include Barum Scaroni, Double Trouble, Speedway, and It Happened at the World's Fair. All collector's items. Watch for a

GREAT BABY GIFTS

At Country Kids, There is a good news for expectant and new parents and grandparents who are looking for distinctive gifts for newborns and small toddlers. Country Kids, an enchanting shop located at 60 Main Street in Kingston, was opened in late November by Lindsay Gumbiner. As a former buyer of fine women's clothing and accessories, and a new mother of an adorable eight-month-old son, Mrs. Gumbiner brings many talent and good taste to her new business which features a complete line of children's for the nursery, layette, toys for babies, and a hand some array of clothing for tiny tots. Creative and personalized gifts abound here.

"Someone was really smiling down on me when I drove through Kingston one day and saw that this shop was for rent. This is a happy place," says this attractive young mother, who brings baby Jonathon with her to work each day. A well-dressed active little tyke who smiles at all the shoppers, he spends much of his time in one of the practical new playpens for sale. One of his favorite places to find the whole process of becoming a parent so exciting. When pregnant mothers come in here to shop for their first baby, and then they have it, it just gives me this I go so excited. I'd love to have another one right away!" laughs Mrs. Gumbiner, who will hold classes on "Becoming a Parent" beginning on February 21st.

Professional counselor Laurie Forest, wife of a well-known jeweler in town and mother of two small children, will hold discussions on the subject in the evenings at Country Kids so that expectant fathers can attend as well. New fathers are often neglected when it comes to preparing for baby's arrival, according to Mrs. Gumbiner.

Handsome Furniture. Country Kids will enchant grandparents, as well as parents, who seek truly handsome furniture for a new baby's room. The good news is that most cribs manufactured today grow with the child or can be used elsewhere in the home later on. Some cribs seen here (all are discounted) convert into beds for toddlers, and one turns into a loveseat, so the investment is now more worth while. A white wicker crib with drawers and a storage bin for toys, laundry or layette items with its matching hanging table and chest of drawers is particularly handsome. More contemporary styles with rounded headboards come in natural wood or white, and the spindle-spoked crib has been a favorite for years.

The couple are living in Charlottesville, Va., where they are professors in the English Department at the University of Virginia.

"OUR BEST SALESMAN:" Young Jonathon Gumbiner, eight months, is one of his mother's Country Kids, the name for her new shop in Kingston. Lindsay Gumbiner, a former buyer, has a wonderful selection of furnishings, gifts and clothing for babies and toddlers.

Country Kids has a wonderful selection of matching bedding for the special baby, including dust ruffles in solids, crisp white dotted Swiss, and provincial prints, sheets, quilts not seen elsewhere, bumpers, and pillow cases. Wall decorations for the nursery can be personalized with the baby's name. Soft sculptures of Babar and other well-known storybook characters, balloons, hearts of many colors, and kites will liven up the baby's room.

The new playpens available in the shop are ever so much more sensible, attractive, and safer for small fry. Most of them have toweling and padding around the edges, with rings in the corners so that babies can learn to pull themselves up. Grandmothers love the new playpen cum crib called "The Commuter," in pale blue, which folds up into a flat handsome blue bag at $75, super for travel in the car or by plane.

The Rolls Royce of strollers by Aprica is found here in bright colors at a competitive price. Highchairs are now adjustable and better looking than those made previously. Look for a sleek white one -- with wheels no less!

Elegant bassinets of wicker complete with white lace and organdy and baby basket carriers lined in colorful cottons and ruffles are wonderful gifts for new parents.

Stunning clothing for newborns, stretchies in white and pastels with whimsical embroidery on the front will keep baby well dressed and warm when visitors come for a viewing. Beautiful little dresses for newborns of 100% cotton are lovely gifts. Bunting for cold days and warmer spring weather are favorites for mothers on the move.

Brother-sister suits and dresses in cotton are seen in the shop which is already well-stocked in "cruisewear." A clever addition to the toddler's wardrobe are dear little overalls to be worn with tee-shirts or blouses with a matching zippered vest -- a thoughtful yet practical gift.

Smaller gifts are plentiful at Country Kids, such as adorable white leather baby shoes handpainted with colorful balloons and other tiny designs -- even on the bottom so baby can see too -- for $13 umbrellas in several colors with wooden duck handle, whimsical quilted bibs with the baby's age tacked on with velcro, a scooper bowl with a suction cup on the bottom, and "Daddy's bags" which carry all of his small charge's necessities.

Hours at Country Kids are from 10:30 to 5:30 Monday through Thursday and Saturdays, and until 8 on Fridays.

COMPETITION PLANNED

By Skating Club. The Princeton Skating Club competition will be held Saturday, at Princeton Day School rink. The public is invited to skate from 1:10 to 2 p.m., and to stay for the competition from 2:10 to 4 p.m. Events to be judged will include free-style and ice dancing by more than 50 club participants.

Chairwoman Marie Eck of Montgomery and the PSC Junior Club Committee consisting of Sue Eck of Montgomery, Alana Jeydel of Princeton, Linda Martin of Hillsboro, and Cynthia Curtice of Princeton Junction, are organizing the event.

Trophies, medals and ribbons will be awarded to first, second, third and fourth places by the club president, Helen Marson of Princeton.

For further information, call PSC Secretary Bea Lee at 921-7449.

The Historical Society has elected officers to serve on the Society's 1985 board of trustees.

They are David S. Thompson, president, Constance Gieft, Sally B. Hughes, and Hugh de N. Wynne, vice presidents. Ellen Hoke, treasurer, Alice Breese, secretary, and Alma Field, assistant secretary.

Other members of the board include Elric G. Endersby, Frederick M. English, Bruce H. French, Walter F. Fullam, Arthur S. Link, Roger H. McDonough, Margen Penick, Florence Peters, William H. Sword, and newly-elected trustees Alvin Felzenberg, Hannah Fox, William Short and Helen G. Westcott.

39-plus, a new Jewish singles group, will meet at the Jewish Center, 435 Nassau Street, Sunday, February 24 at 1 p.m. A Bagel Brunch with "A Two Dollar Wedding," a reading by Joan Goldstein, will follow. Donation is $3. For further information call 921-0100.

The English Speaking Union will present the Honorable Eldon Wylie Griffiths, Conservative Member of Parliament, speaking on "International Terrorism," Monday, at Woodrow Wilson School, Bowl 1 at 4:30 p.m.

Mr. Griffiths, a graduate of Canterbury and Yale University, served as a correspondent for Time and Life, as a columnist for The Washington Post, and as a foreign editor of Newsweek. He first stood for Parliament in 1964 and during the past 20 years has been the Opposition Spokesman on Europe, as well as a consultant and advisor on many issues of international concern.

There will be a small reception for Mr. Griffiths for English Speaking Union members, and prospective members, following the lecture.

Mrs. S.W. Sinding of Cherry Hill Road was the winner of the needlepoint rug, "Flowers of New Jersey," designed by Carin Laughlin, a member of the Garden Club of Princeton. Drawing for the rug was held January 23 at the Nassau Club during a joint meeting of the Garden Club of Princeton and the Stony Brook Garden Club.

Proceeds from the fund-raising project will be used to benefit the Garden Club of Princeton's civic and community projects.

The Trenton chapter of the Professional Secretaries International will meet Thursday, February 14, at the Glendale Inn in Trenton. Borough Residents Voice Concerns about State Proposals For Improvements to Major Roads Connecting with Route One

Judging by comments made at last Thursday's open public meeting on proposals having to do with the roadway entrances into Princeton, residents would just as soon keep it as difficult as possible for more traffic to enter town — from any direction.

The meeting was called by Borough Mayor Barbara Sigmund as an opportunity for letting the county and the state know how residents feel about certain roadway proposals, and to hear what County and Department of Transportation (DOT) officials are currently thinking. On hand were Leo Laaksonen, Mercer County planning director, and Alfred Harf and Charles Carmalt of the DOT.

Some 80 residents, Borough and Township, turned out for the meeting in Borough Hall. Each was given a map prepared by RCA showing eight different possible interchanges on an upgraded, three-lane Route 1. The map also showed the existing or new connections leading from these interchanges into Princeton on one side and into or through West Windsor on the other.

They were also given an accompanying booklet entitled "US Route 1 Roadway Alternatives Paper", which described the various alternatives and the pros and cons of each. The DOT plans to widen Route 1 from Lawrence Township to North Brunswick and to replace as many traffic lights as possible with grade-separated interchanges in order to ease congestion and permit a smoother flow of traffic.

Growth Is Focus, Mayor Sigmund set the tone for the meeting with prepared remarks calling attention to "enormous and thoughtless growth patterns" in the Route 1 corridor as the cause for symptoms such as the traffic problems that were the focus of the meeting. She went on to highlight her concern that making Harrison Street the main entrance to Princeton would create a throughway of that artery for traffic coming south on Route 206 and wishing to find a more direct link to Route 571 and on to the N.J. Turnpike than proposed S-92, a bit further north, would provide.

Mayor Sigmund was focusing on the fact that the DOT's several proposed realignments for a widened Route 571 take that roadway through RCA property on the south side of Route 1. One alternative, number 4 on the map provided, connects directly with the present Harrison Street interchange.

She wants to keep Washington Road the main entrance into Princeton, with Harrison Street ending, as it does now, at Route One. "We don't want to impact established neighborhoods," Mayor Sigmund said, noting that Washington Road was less residential than Harrison Street.

But residents, many of whom came from the Harrison Street area, were more concerned about the fate of the Harrison Street Bridge. County Planner Leo Laaksonen told the audience that the County had been successful in obtaining federal funds for rebuilding the bridge and had contracted a study of its structural integrity.

Residents questioned him sharply on the size and design of the bridge and whether accepting federal funds would in turn mean accepting federal standards for lane and shoulder widths. A bigger bridge would mean additional capacity, which in turn would mean more traffic on Harrison Street, they noted.

When Mr. Laaksonen said that the bridge would either have to be repaired or the County would have to close it, there was resounding applause from the audience. One man said, "We could save all that money." Another recommended replacing the bridge with a ferry.

"What's the purpose of widening any of the arteries in and out of Princeton?" another resident wanted to know. "Forget the federal funds. It may be expensive, but so is maintaining the quality of life," said another. "Let the problems get worse so we can't move any more," said still another, who was applauded.

Mr. Laaksonen also said that the County favored no changes in Alexander Street, except possibly taking out the curve if the bridge over the D&R Canal were replaced. He also said he agreed with Mayor Sigmund that the realigned 571 should not be the alternative that meets Harrison Street but the alignment that swings back into Washington Road.

From the comments made by the two DOT representatives, several points emerged:

- The DOT is not "presuming any street widening" in Princeton Borough or Township. This means that Washington Road, Harrison Street and Alexander Road will remain two-lane arteries with the problem of how to distribute or spread traffic evenly among all three.

- Alexander Road will remain "more or less the same" as it is now, except for possibly straightening the "kink" in it.

- Springdale Road and other links to Route 206-Bayard Lane are not being talked about presently, but that doesn't mean that someone won't think it is a good idea to make such a link five years hence.

- The Dinky will stay the way it is, although the DOT is considering ways of using the right of way for buses or other more economical, efficient means of mass transit.

- Route 1 will remain at its present elevations — partly because of the utilities, such as a major AT&T cable underneath it. Crossroads will likely go over rather than under it.

- The DOT is no longer in the business of building four-lane bridges such as the Kingston bridge "just in case" the adjoining road is widened at a future date.

- After spending $200 million for the improvements to Route 1, "things will pretty much be the same as they were two years ago" in terms of traffic congestion. The DOT acknowledges that it is playing "catch-up ball" with the development on Route 1, which it says is beyond its control.

A Plea for Mass Transit, in response to one woman's plea for mass transit along Route 1, Mr. Carmalt said, "We are working on that," but added that past land use decisions made that mass transit "not an easy thing to do." He spoke of the way "everything is spread out — there is no organizational center, no central place, like a Penn Station, which makes that easy to do."

Mr. Harf made the point that safety and the reduction of accidents was a prime consideration in the Route 1 improvements, and "the public shouldn't lose sight of the importance of public investment for safety."

Princeton Planning Board vice chairman Margen Penick reminded everyone that the two Princetons were dependent on the Canal and Lake Carnegie for recreation and much of the beauty of the community. She warned against feeder roads placed too close to either and said "we should be trying to protect these two things."

The University came in for some heavy criticism from a woman who said that the University had "started all this development" on Route 1 and should use its political pressure and "largesse" to help solve some of the traffic problems that have resulted.

Eugene McPartland, vice president for facilities, told the group that it wasn't true that the University had asked that Washington Road not be used as an entrance into the town. He pointed out that any time one of the roads is out of commission for any reason, the traffic problems on the other two are made all the more acute. He said he felt all three arteries are necessary and that the University did not advocate widening any of them.

Another resident cautioned that by objecting to improvements on Route 1, Princeton residents could find themselves with the "saturation" moving out to Princeton Pike, already nearly saturated, he noted, and Rosedale Road.

BUSINESS

AUTHORS TO SPEAK

At Chamber Lunchees. The Chamber of Commerce and the Trenton Times are sponsoring a series of luncheons featuring area authors as speakers. The first will be held Wednesday, February 27, at the Nassau Inn. Chamber special events chairman Jack O'Leary has organized the program.

The event will begin at 11:30, giving participants an opportunity to meet the authors. Donald Broderick, manager of the University Store, will have books available for purchase and autographs. Lunch will begin at noon, during which time the authors will talk about the experiences that led them to write their books.

Two of the authors are Princeton University professors. One is Fred I. Greenstein, professor of politics and an expert on the American political system and executive power. His recent book is The Hidden Hand Presidency: Eisenhower as Leader. Prof. Greenstein is the author and editor of 13 other books and monographs and more than 40 articles.

The other is Uwe E. Reinhardt, professor of economics and public affairs, a faculty member in the Department of Economics and in the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs. Among his works are a book, Hospital Economics, and a cost-benefit analysis of space shuttle transportation. He is also the author of a paper entitled, "Are Americans as Mean as They Look."

Tickets are $20 each. For reservations, call The Chamber at 921-7676.

TIMELY TIPS -

with Sam DeTuro
Woodwinds Associates

For all your indoor gardeners, consider using an electric blanket, covered with a sheet of plastic under your seedlings. The blanket provides abundant space and the heat can be regulated.

How about this one? Dye a pair of gardening gloves red and wear them when you are operating any power equipment, chain saws, hedge trimmers, etc. Helps to keep your hands in full sight!!!

If you've got an aquarium you might want to save your old pebbles from the bottom of the tank for drainage in flower pots. The sediment that has collected on them is a fertilizer bonus.

When transplanting tiny seedlings, like African violets, you might consider using an olive for this kind of delicate work.

Call WOODWINDS (924-3500) for all your tree care needs. We'll be happy to serve you.

NOMINATIONS SOUGHT

For Volunteer Award. The Princeton Area Council of Community Services is once again seeking nominations for person who has made an outstanding contribution to the Robert E. Clancy Award for Outstanding Service as a volunteer work in the Greater Princeton area.

The award was begun five years ago by Robert E. Clancy up of community leaders will of Robert E. Clancy judge the nominations according to criteria established by the board of directors of the Mutual Company in the Council.

Princeton area and in New York. Nominations are open to those who live or work in Cranbury, East Windsor, Griggstown, Highstown, Kingston, Montgomery, Plainsboro, Princeton Borough, Princeton Township, Rocky Hill, West Windsor, and parts of Hopewell, Lawrence and lower South Brunswick Townships.

One of the purposes of the Council of Community Services, the planning associate of the United Way - Princeton Area Communities, is to encourage volunteerism, which is crucial to the survival of many essential community services.

Unlike many volunteer service awards, the Clancy Award is for direct service. It is for individuals who volunteer their time in one-to-one, person-to-person service. "The award honors the 'unsung hero or heroine' who spends many unrecognized hours behind the scenes working with individuals and small groups, helping local organizations to serve the community," explained Linda Eckert, executive director of the Council. While the Council recognizes the important contribution of community leaders in the Citation for Distinguished Volunteer Leadership given at its annual meeting in the fall, the emphasis of the Clancy Award is on the outstanding contributions of people on the level of direct service to individuals.

In addition to the adult youth award given to a young person who has made an outstanding contribution to the Robert E. Clancy Award for Outstanding Service as a volunteer work in the Greater Princeton area.

A five-member panel made up of community leaders will judge the nominations according to criteria established by the board of directors of the Mutual Company in the Council.

The winner of the Clancy Award will receive a hand-crafted sterling silver Griggstown, Highstown, sculpture mounted on a marble base at a luncheon at the Nassau Club in April during National Volunteer Week. The trophy was commissioned by Massachusetts Mutual Life and was designed by sculptor William deMatten.

The deadline for nominations is March 15. Nominations may be made by organizations or individuals, and forms can be obtained by calling the Council of Community Services office at 924-5865 or 799-6033.

WORKSHOPS PLANNED

On Early Education. Talks on the Waldorf curriculum in the first three grades are planned for Saturday, February 9, and Monday, February 25, at 8 p.m. at the Waldorf Nursery and Kindergarten at The Johnson Park School, Rosedale Road.

On Saturday Eugene Schwartz, class teacher at The Green Meadow Waldorf School in Spring Valley, N.Y., will discuss "An Artistic Foundation for Intellectual Growth: A Close Look at Grades 1, 2, and 3." He will explain the reasons for focusing on certain age-old stories in certain grades, such as Aesop's Fables in second grade, Old Testament stories in third, and Norse myths in fourth.

"The Magic and Wisdom of Fairy Tales" will be the subject of the February 25 workshop. Ruth Pusch, Waldorf teacher for over 30 years, editor of Education as an Art, and author and curhythmist by training, will explain why fairy tales form such an important part of kindergarten and first grade curricula.

The Waldorf Schools, an international movement of over 200 schools (K-12), were founded by Rudolph Steiner in 1919. The school in Princeton presently offers a nursery and a kindergarten.

For information about the school and the workshops, call 924-7428 or 924-6258.

FICTION WORKSHOP

At Morven, Princeton Creative Center Inc. will present "Advanced Fiction Workshop," a course conducted by Elizabeth Starr Hill, starting Wednesday evening, February 13, 8 to 10 at Morven, 55 Stockton Street.

Classes will be held on nine Wednesday evenings through April 17, excluding March 27. Workshop participants will read and discuss their work and learn to analyze possible publishing markets. The group offers encouragement and support, as well as constructive criticism.

Ms. Hill is president of Princeton Creative Center Inc. Her published work includes stories and articles for national magazines and many books for children and young people. She has taught fiction writing at Princeton Adult School and other continuing education programs.

To register send a $70 check or money order to Princeton Creative Center Inc., 24 Woodside Lane, Princeton, NJ 08540. Include your name, address, telephone number and the name of the course. For further information, call 924-3669.

A SCUBA EXPERIENCE

Offered at YMCA. A free Scuba Experience Evening will be held at the Princeton YMCA on Friday from 7 to 9:30 p.m. It is sponsored by Princeton Aqua Sports and the YMCA.

A slide show entitled "Diving Is..." which describes scuba diving, and a short lecture on the sport's fundamentals will precede the pool session. Participants will be guided through the use of scuba gear in the shallow end of the pool.

Minimum age for participation is 12. Those under 18 must have a parent sign a release waiver. Waivers will be available at the Y before the class or at Princeton Aqua Sports during business hours.

Participants should have a bathing suit and towel. Those possessing a diving mask should bring it. For reservations, call Princeton Aqua Sports at 924-4240.

COOKING CLASS

In South Brunswick "Phyllo Cookery" will be presented at the South Brunswick Public Library on Sunday, February 17 at 3 p.m. Chet Marianne Isinger will demonstrate several recipes using this leaf-thin pastry.

Copies of the recipes to be demonstrated will be available, and there will be food samples to taste. This program is part of "Always on Sunday," a continuing cultural series, co-sponsored by the South Brunswick Cultural Arts commission and the public library. It is free and open to the public.

CRRAFT PROGRAM SET

In Rocky Hill. The Mary Jacobs Library in Rocky Hill will present an adult craft program, "Beginning-Patchwork," on Monday at 10 a.m. There is a $75 charge for materials, and registration is required.

To register and to obtain further information, call the library at 924-7073.

"HAVE A HEART"

"Become a Friend." Free coffee and cookies and the chance to become a Friend of the Princeton Public Library will be offered as a Valentine by the Friends on Thursday, February 14. The refreshments will be served at the library from 10 to 4.

Anyone may join the Friends. Minimum membership is $5 but larger contributions are always welcome.

"Have a Heart - Become a Friend" is the Valentine theme of this mini-membership drive. The Friends, with a membership of almost 2,000, finance all of the public library's programs including Readings Over Coffee, Writers Talking, film screenings, pre-school programs and programs for children over six.

In addition, Friends have given the library more than $100,000 over the last three years for the purchase of books. Friends also pay for the rental of the copier and have bought various projectors. The group also finances professional education for library staff.

Borough Budget

The Borough can use the $175,000 in annual income that has resulted from the 1983 increase in parking meter fees toward operating expenses. It also expects to receive about $100,000 from the state franchise and gross receipts tax — money that is allowed to be used for financing the cost of local government.

Since it appears unnecessary to finance the nearly half million increase in the Borough departmental budget through tax revenues, the question arises: Why is there a proposed six-cent hike in the tax rate? The answer is that the Borough has experienced a drop in ratables of $2.1 million. Much of this loss relates to the AT&T divestiture, which cut about $2 million from the Borough ratable base.

The Police and Building Inspection Departments show the largest increases in the new operating budget: $91,000 for the Police Department and $89,000 for Building Inspection.

The police budget includes the purchase of two new vehicles, and Building Inspection will hire two additional staff members: a fire inspector at $25,000 per year and a technical assistant at $20,000.

The entire public works budget, including Buildings and Grounds, Building Inspection, Engineering, Shade Trees, Street Lighting, Zoning, and Road Repairs and Maintenance, is scheduled to go up by $196,000, accounting for nearly half the increase in Borough expenditures.

The Borough cost for garbage collection in 1985 will be $210,150, a rise of $71,762 over last year. This reflects the increased cost of having to truck garbage to the GROWS landfill in Pennsylvania.

The budget includes $500 salary increases for mayor and council. Mayor Sigmund's 1985 salary will be $4,000 and council members will each receive $3,000. This compares with the $5,000 annual salary paid to Township Mayor Pike and the $3,575 received by members of Township Committee.

Capital Budget Also Passed. A Borough capital budget of $645,000 was also passed by Council. Of this, $402,258 will go toward the repair of a number of Borough streets. These include Wiggins Street, from Witherspoon to Moore; Hamilton Avenue, from Moore to Linden Lane; Lilac Lane, from Hodge Road to Cleveland Lane; Spring Street, from Witherspoon to Vandeventer; Paul Robeson Place, from Bayard Lane to Chambers Street; and Library Place, from Stockton Street to Hodge Road.

Additional capital expenses include $9,077 for automatic pistols for the Police Department, $7,500 for microfilm equipment to be used by all Borough offices; $12,000 for a pick-up truck and $13,000 for a backhoe attachment for loaders, both for the road repairs and maintenance department.

Sewer Ban

Housing's attempt to build affordable housing on the Peterson tract.

Or as SOC chairman J.B. Smith sees it, the two letters and DEP's greater involvement in Princeton's sewer rehabilitation is a "modification" of the earlier consent agreement. That agreement provided a means, for developers seeking to connect to the system by paying for what it costs to remove four gallons of infiltration and inflow for every gallon they would put into the system.

Deeply involved in the ongoing, multifaceted process of sewer study and repair, Mr. Smith is not unduly concerned by the state's recent actions. He thinks some of the developers will have to "hold up a little," but he does not think individually their proposed developments are going to make that much difference in the number and severity of overflows.

"We're doing as much as we can," he says, "going as fast as we can go. In fact, we probably shouldn't go any faster." The SOC has recently hired the Clinton Bogart firm from northern New Jersey to survey the two worst areas in the whole system: upstream from a particular manhole off Snowden Lane and upstream from another frequently overflowing one on Elm Road.

The survey will indicate whether or not the entire Mountain Brook trunk line will have to be replaced, not just the portion through Community Park that is currently underway. To do so might cost millions of dollars and be very difficult because of the terrain and the number of houses that have been built over the trunk line since it was first put in.

The other trunk line, Harry's Brook, Mr. Smith believes was poorly designed in the first place and will have to be replaced. It is these decisions, and how to get the public more conscious of its responsibility in eliminating illegal sump pump and down drain connections, that are much more on his mind than the new orders from the state, whether a ban or a modification.

Mr. Smith says the SOC will be complying with the DEP request for a comprehensive plan this week or next. He believes that if the state approves, each development application will be taken on a case by case basis.

Township Mayor Winthrop S. Pike is more alarmed by the DEP letters, which he views as constituting a ban and thus a drying up of moneys for repairing the system. He plans to call a meeting next week with the Borough Mayor and members of the SOC to discuss the matter.

The next regular meeting of the Sewer Operating Committee is on Wednesday, February 13, at 8 in Borough Hall.

USSR AND ARMS CONTROL

Topic of Talk at Library. Cyril E. Black, director of the Center of International Studies at Princeton University, will speak at the Public Library on Tuesday, February 26, at 8 p.m. on "The Soviet Approach to Arms Control."

Mr. Black has also been associated with the Department of State, the National War College and the Ford Foundation. He is the James S. McDonnell Distinguished University Professor of History and International Affairs. His research interests include Russia, Eastern Europe and modernization studies. He is the author of some 50 books and articles dealing with Russian history, the Soviet Union and international relations.

This lecture, followed by a question period, is part of the Writers Talking Series sponsored by the Friends of Princeton Public Library.

FORUM PLANNED

On Mt. Laurel. Community leaders, politicians and planning experts will discuss Mt. Laurel II, Sunday at 11 a.m. in the Nassau Presbyterian Church Assembly Hall. The forum will explore the major perspectives and arguments, with emphasis on the moral issues. The public is invited.

Panelists include Ingrid Reed, member of Mercer county Planning Board and assistant dean of Woodrow Wilson School, Winthrop Pike, Mayor of Princeton Township, Stanley VanNess, counsel to the Mercer county Freeholders and former Public Advocate of the State of New Jersey, Jerome G. Rose, a lawyer and professor of Urban Planning at Rutgers University, and Wendy Mager, an attorney for Friends of Princeton Open Space. Lowell Livezey, a member of the church and a lecturer at the Woodrow Wilson School, will chair the panel.

The panel will explore how Mt. Laurel II affects municipalities in the "Princeton Corridor" as well as specific issues such as the legitimate role of the courts, justice toward minorities, environmental considerations and the responsibility of local institutions including churches.

The superforums are held four times a year on controversial public issues. Previous topics have included abortion, religion and the 1984 election, the federal budget, and sanctuary for Salvadoran refugees. The panelists do not make speeches but enter immediately into a dialogue in response to questions posed by the moderator.

TRENTON IS FOCUS

Of Church Class. The adult class at Christ Congregation will focus on the topic "Trenton: A Tragic Past and a Promising Future" for the remainder of February.

The class will be led by Bill Goldsmith, a Princeton Seminary student who also is on the staff of Trenton Area Ecumenical Ministries, and will take place each Sunday during the 11:15 a.m. "Second Hour" following the 10 a.m. worship service and 11 a.m. coffee break. The church is located at Walnut and Houghton Lanes.

The first class, covering the history of Trenton, was held last Sunday. The next session, scheduled for this Sunday will involve a field trip to the Chambersburg section of Trenton to conduct brief demographic studies of Italian, Hispanic, and Black American neighborhoods. The class will gather at a Chambersburg church afterwards to compare notes and share a brown bag lunch.

The February 17 session will focus on current organizing activities in Trenton. In addition to Mr. Goldsmith, grassroots organizer Kathleen O'Toole will lead that day's discussion.

The class concludes on February 24 with an assessment of all that has been covered in the first three weeks, and looking for positive ways residents of suburbs and towns near Trenton can effect improved conditions there.

The series is open to the public. For further information call the church at 921-6253, or Mr. Goldsmith at 683-4542.

BULLETIN NOTES

Princeton Jewish Singles is sponsoring an Oneg Shabbat on Friday evening at the Jewish Center, 435 Nassau Street. Services commence at 8:15 p.m. For more information call Margie, 448-0512.

The Rev. Peter Jenkins will give his first sermon as the new minister of the Unitarian Universalist Church at Washington Crossing on Sunday.

The church is on Washington Crossing-Pennington Road, Route 546, Titusville.

Mr. Jenkins, a native of Bath in Southwest England, was educated in the British universities of Bristol and Cambridge. He served as a minister in England, first in the Congregational Church, and later as a Unitarian.

A Spring Fashion Show to benefit Mt. Pisgah A.M.E. Church Women's Day will be held at Community Park School, Sunday, February 17, from 4-6 p.m. Tickets are $4 for adults, $2 for children 12 and under. Fashion designs will be auctioned and there will be entertainment and a door prize.

Princeton Alliance Church will hold a lecture series and study group for women on Ephesians, "The Key to Enlightenment."

Lead by Joyce Seckinger, the series will be held on Wednesday mornings for 10 weeks beginning February 13 at the home of Mrs. Magda Wellman, 12 Hunter Road. Coffee will be served at 9:30, the lecture will begin at 10. For information call 921-7090.

The Men, Boys and Girls' choir of Trinity Church will sing Choral Evensong on Sunday at 4:30. The church is at 33 Mercer Street.

Music to be featured in this service will be a set of evening canticles by the choir's director of music, John Bertalot. Mr. Bertalot wrote the canticles to be sung in Queen Elizabeth's Royal Chapel, Windsor Castle, England, last year, and he was honored to be asked to play the organ in the castle when they were performed there.

The prelude, at 4 p.m., will be sung by John and Mary Kemp, and will include music by Bach and Handel to celebrate the tercentenary of their births.

The support group for separated and divorced Catholics at St. Paul's Church will meet on Monday at 8 p.m. in the school cafeteria. Hanan Isaacs, attorney-at-law, will address the group.

All interested persons are invited. For further information call Family Life Bureau, (201) 780-1297 during the day, or Barbara Keller, 921-1335 evenings.

The Men's Association of Witherspoon Presbyterian Church will serve an old-fashioned Sunday morning breakfast this Sunday from 8 to 10.

A discussion of Mt. Laurel II will be held starting at 9. Walter Bhiss, Attorney for Princeton Borough, will participate in the discussions. The public is welcome. Reservations may be made by calling 921-8429 after 5 p.m.

OBITUARIES

Margaret M. Grant, 72, of Princeton, died January 29 at Princeton Medical Center after a lengthy illness.

Born in Cape Girardeau, Mo., Mrs. Grant lived in Des Moines, Iowa, before moving to Princeton 20 years ago. She attended the University of Iowa and was active in the Gamma Phi Sorority Alumnae Association.

Wife of the late Vernon Grant Jr., she is survived by a sister, Mrs. Mary H. Hoffmann of Pennock, Minn.

A memorial service will be held at a later date in Des Moines, Iowa. Funeral arrangements were under the direction of the Kimble Funeral Home. Memorial contributions may be made to the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad, PO Box 529, Princeton, N.J. 08542.

Dr. Alfred D. Summers, 89, of Village Mill East, Lawrenceville, died February 4 in Hamilton Hospital.

Dr. Summers was an obstetrician in practice in Princeton from 1926 to 1960. Born in Ossian, Ind., he received his bachelor's and M.D. degrees from the University of Michigan. After retiring from practice, he lived in Cape Cod for eight years before moving to Lawrenceville, in 1968.

Dr. Summers was an honorary member of the medical staff at Princeton Medical Center and a member of the American Medical Association and county and state medical societies. He was a charter member of the New Jersey Obstetrical and Gynecological Society.

An Army veteran of World War II, he was a member of the U.S. Army Ambulance Service Association. He also belonged to the Alumni Association of the University of Michigan and the Nassau Presbyterian Church.

Husband of the late E. Marie Summers, he is survived by a son, Richard A. Summers of Mercerville, a daughter, Betty Jane Kleiber of Scotia, N.Y., two sisters, Lulu Hamilton of Fort Wayne, Ind., and Phoebe Plummer of Asheville, N.C.; seven grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

A service will be held Thursday, February 7, at 10 a.m. at Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad, PO Box 529, Hume, 40 Vandeventer Avenue. Burial will be in George Washington Memorial Park, Plymouth Meeting, Pa. Friends may call this Wednesday from 7 to 9 p.m. at the funeral home.

Winfred T. Kemp, 80, died January 30 at Princeton Medical Center.

Born in Nutley, she had lived in Princeton the past three years. She was a former resident of Rossmore.

Wife of the late Theodore H. Kemp, she is survived by three sons, Gordon A. Kemp of Mystic, Conn., Bruce I. Kemp, with whom she lived, and Thomas H. Kemp of Washington, D.C., five grandchildren; a sister, Doris Tomalin of Rossmore; and two brothers, Paul G. Tomalin of Princeton and Phillip L. Tomalin of Bar Harbor, Maine.

A family service was held at the Kimble Funeral Home with burial in Oak Hill Cemetery, Nyack, N.Y. Memorial contributions may be made to the Princeton Public Library for the large print collection, 65 Witherspoon Street, Princeton, N.J. 08542.

James C. Bussell of Trenton, formerly of Kingston, died January 29 at Princeton Medical Center.

Mr. Bussell was born in Harrodsburg, Tenn., and had lived in Trenton for the past five years. A U.S. Army veteran of World War II, he was employed at Suburban Fence Company on Route One.

Surviving are his wife, Doris H. Bussell; four daughters, Florence McVeigh of Hawaii, Claudia Hussey of Cranbury, Lily Panzella of Trenton, and April Durland of Browns Mills; seven sons, James of Leander, Tex., Gary of Hamilton Square, Carl, John, Guy, Terry and Todd Bussell, all of Trenton, 19 grandchildren; and three sisters and two brothers in Tennessee.

The service was held at the Kimble Funeral Home, the Rev. Russell W. Annich, pastor emeritus of Bethany Presbyterian Church in Trenton, officiating. Burial was in Kingston Cemetery.

Loren B. Johnston, 59, died suddenly January 29 at home.

Mr. Johnston was born in Michigan and had lived in Princeton for 31 years, during which time he was employed on the research staff of RCA Laboratories.

Surviving are his wife, Ann D. Johnston; two daughters, Beth Johnston of East Windsor and Ellen Johnston of Somers Point; and a brother, Frank Johnston of Burbank, Calif.

The service was private. Arrangements were under the direction of the Kimble Funeral Home. Memorial contributions may be made to the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad, PO Box 529, Princeton, N.J. 08542.

Lloyd A. Smith, 69, of Rabbit Hill Road, West Windsor Township, died January 28 at Princeton Medical Center.

Born in Flemington, he had lived in West Windsor for the past 34 years. He was a printer with Princeton Printing Co., retiring in 1980 after 25 years of service. He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Dutch Neck, the American Legion Post No. 148 of Hightstown, and the VFW Post No. 57 of Hightstown.

Surviving are his wife, Marguerite Oliver Smith, a son, Gregory L. Smith at home, his stepfather, Russell E. Davison of Yardley, Pa., and two stepdaughters, Marion Davison of Yardley, Pa., and Ethel Willey of Massachusetts.

The service was held at a Cranbury funeral home, the Rev. Floyd Church, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Dutch Neck, officiating. Burial was in Dutch Neck Cemetery. Contributions may be made to the Twin W. Rescue Squad, Princeton Junction, N.J. 08550.

Mary E. Kyle, a former Princeton resident, died January 30 in Kimball Medical Center, Lakewood. Born in New York City, Miss

Kyle lived in Princeton for many years before moving to Wall Township in 1965. She was the daughter of the late William G. Kyle, DDS, and Ella Braman Kyle. She was employed as a school teacher in Englewood and Freehold and then as a U.S. government engineering aid and technical writer for instruction manuals at Picatinny Arsenal.

Surviving are two sisters, Dorothy Hathaway of Hawaii and Janet Wright of Spring Lake Heights.

The service was held in Wall Township with burial in Princeton Cemetery.

Caroline H. Stevenson, 73, died January 26 in Pikes Peak Hospice Care Center, Colorado Springs, Col., after an extended illness.

Born in Harlingen, she was a longtime area resident and had been visiting her daughter in Colorado Springs. She was chief telephone operator at Princeton University until her retirement in 1977 and was a member of the Montgomery Senior Citizens.

Wife of the late George W. Stevenson Sr., a N.J. State Police officer who died in 1954, she is survived by a son, George W. Stevenson Jr. of Barnegat, N.J.; a daughter, Sylvia L. Havelett of Colorado Springs, seven grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren; and a sister, Marion E. Hahr of Princeton.

A graveside service will be held Saturday afternoon in Cedar Hill Cemetery, East Millstone, the Rev. Wilbur Ivins officiating.

Memorial contributions may be made to Pikes Peak Hospice Inc., 601 North Tejon, Colorado Springs, Col. 80903, or the Montgomery Rescue Squad, Harlingen Road, Belle Mead, N.J. 08502.

Winner in the Window at Princeton Volkswagen

A new performance car at Princeton Volkswagen, Route 206, the 1985 Volkswagen GTI, has been named "Car of the Year" by the editors of Motor Trend magazine, according to dealer Robert Feldman.

The quick, aerodynamic hatchback was selected over nine other domestic contenders, many of them costing much more than the GTI's $8,990 suggested retail list price.

In choosing the GTI, the editors recorded that it had placed first in six of the magazine's eight test categories: quality control, comfort and convenience, ride and drive, chassis dynamics, handling, and fuel economy.

Motor Trend executive editor Kevin Smith said in the February Car of the Year issue, "the Volkswagen GTI delivers a combination of talents that exists nowhere else in the marketplace."

The heart of VW's new GTI is a high-output 1.8-liter engine which develops 100 horsepower, enabling it to achieve a top speed of 116 miles per hour.

It is available at Princeton Volkswagen along with the rest of the Volkswagen line which includes the all-new Golf and Jetta, Scirocco, Quantum Sedan and Wagon, Cabriolet and the Vanagon and Vanagon Camper.

VERNON CIRCLE

Lake front - those magic words that envision calm blue water in the summer rippled by an occasional sail boat or an exciting crew race and the sparkling cover of ice in the winter attracting a few colorful skaters. The gentle slope of this lake front lot allows the lower level of this attractive house to be above ground and also overlook the lake. Gracious living areas: four bedrooms, 2 1/2 baths and greenhouse. $435,000

STOCKTON STREET

This authentic Colonial in mid-Princeton has the charm of colonial days combined with the conveniences of today. A center hall opens to the secluded garden. Charming living room and library each with fireplace-screened porch, children's room, kitchen and lavatory on first floor. Four bedrooms, 2 1/2 baths and laundry on second. $345,000

ONE MARKHAM

This enchanting Oriental garden with its rare specimen plantings is walled to insure its privacy and gives a pleasant outlook from both the living areas and master bedroom of this luxurious condominium. Numerous custom details, many handcrafted, add distinction to the well-designed interior. With one floor convenience and a Borough location, it offers: spacious living-dining room, efficient kitchen, library or second bedroom, hall bath, master bedroom and bath. $215,000

CHERRY HILL ROAD

This fine estate on ten beautiful acres abounds in wildlife yet is near town. A long winding lane in a park-like setting leads to the magnificent Georgian house. The main house of old brick with a slate roof is flanked by side wings of clapboard. The foyer opens to a wide center hall with a graceful curved stairway. The library is panelled in soft pine and has a wood-burning fireplace. The gracious living room has a fireplace with antique mantel, three-windowed walls and two pairs of French doors leading to terraces. The modern kitchen offers a variety of work areas and opens to a charming breakfast room, potting shed and greenhouse. A large central hall on second floor leads to the luxurious master suite consisting of sitting room with fireplace, the master bedroom with two dressing rooms and large master bath. The servants' rooms include sitting room, bath and two bedrooms. The childrens' wing has four spacious bedrooms and two baths on first floor. Four bedrooms and two baths on second. Finished basement. Four car garage. $1,350,000

SAVE TIME, MONEY, ENERGY

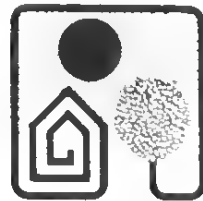

If you are a homebuyer, it makes a lot of sense to use the services of a Realtor. Realtors can perform truly invaluable services because they have buyers' two precious commodities: Time and energy. Both are valuable to you!

You save money on gas and oil because we'll be doing the looking in my car. You'll save the time and trouble of trudging from bank to bank looking for financing because I'm the one who helps you arrange that. You'll save the wear and tear of rushing around looking at unsuitable properties because I'll show you only the homes I know are suitable and within your price range.

You'll save money on the actual cost of your new home too because I do not take overpriced listings. If you have to sell your present home in order to buy a new one from us, we'll handle that sale for you too and make sure the two transactions dovetail properly. We have a long list of househunters who are ready to buy now. Your home may be just what many of them are looking for.

Princeton Schools Confront Diverse Problems In Satisfying Needs of Non-English Speakers

TWO YOUNG ESL STUDENTS AT WORK: Community Park School ESL teacher Mary Jane Sheena instructs third grader Beata Krall, from Poland, and fourth grader Yusuke Iwano, from Japan, in the essentials of the English language.

What percentage of the associated with Princeton Princeton Regional Schools' University and the Institute student population needs the for Advanced Study. Some are help of an English as a Second newly arrived residents in Language (ESL) teacher? town And school ad-

What is the native language ministrators believe that an of the greatest number of increasing number are com- students enrolled in ESL ing from the private sector — classes?

How many different R&D executives or of ex- languages are spoken by ecutives with foreign-owned students in Princeton's public corporations who have been schools?

The answers are: 15.6 per- Route 1 boom. cent; German; 37.

Each year brings an influx needing the ESL instruction. of students needing help with In September, 1984, there English into Princeton. Many were 89. Half of these 89 were are the children of persons new to the district.

This provides an inkling of how difficult it is to predict from year to year the number of students who will require help with basic English.

Currently, there are 2.25 ESL teachers in the system; a full time instructor whose time is divided equally between Princeton High School and John Witherspoon Middle School, a full-time teacher at Community Park; and a part-time instructor at Riverside. Two full-time aides assist in the program.

The state provides $38,000 to finance Princeton's ESL program; the town provides $65,000.

The 1985-86 school budget allocates another full-time ESL teacher, to be assigned as need dictates. There is no question that the ESL staff at Riverside School will have to expand to handle the students from the University's Hibben-Magie and Lawrence Apartments who will be moved in September from Community Park to Riverside.

Study Underway. Right now, a study is underway to see where the school population needing ESL is actually coming from (percentage from the Institute, University, and private sector) and to determine whether the current numbers might remain stable, drop, or continue to grow. The findings are expected within the next three weeks.

According to Princeton Regional Schools Director of Student Services Charles Huehet, many of the pupils in the ESL program are from disadvantaged circumstances.

"However," he says, "there is a significant minority of students who come from highly impoverished educational and economic backgrounds. These youngsters have an impact on the classroom and support services that is out of proportion to their numbers."

Sixteen different language backgrounds are represented in the 89 students enrolled in this year's ESL program. In addition to the 20 German-speaking students, 19 speak Japanese, ten Hebrew, nine French, seven Spanish, and five Mandarin Chinese.

Of the students whose native language is other than English, but who do not require the help of an ESL instructor, 46 speak Spanish, 38 Italian, 27 German, 22 French, 18 Mandarin, 15 Hebrew, and 13 Creole.

Exotic Tongues. Among the languages spoken in Princeton's school are Africans, Bengali, Burmese, Farsi, Laotian, Lingala, Malayalam, Tagalog and Teluga.

Sometimes, even the school system is at a loss when faced with this suburban outpost of the Tower of Babel. There is an asterisk next to a language called "Seewi," which notes, "These two students are from Ghana." "Seewi" might possibly be the same as "Twe," which is one of the languages listed for Ghana on the "Countries of the World" list.

The system also finds itself in something of a "Catch 22" bind in terms of its next year's ESL program. New Jersey State law says that, once 20 or more pupils in one language group need help, the district should begin preparing a bilingual program in that language.

This year, for the first time, the number hit 20. The

"TWO BY TWO"

In Hopewell, "Two by Two" Richard Rodgers' musical story of Noah, his ark and his hopes, opens February 7 for a four weekend run at The Off-Broadstreet Dessert Theatre in Hopewell.

A blend of fact and fantasy, "Two by Two" is based on Clifford Odets' book, "The Flowering Peach." It opened on Broadway in 1970 with Danny Kaye in the role of Noah. Press critic William Glover described it as "a show for anyone, rich in comedy, full of melody and that rare ingredient — heart."

Off-Broadstreet Theatre producer Robert Thick will take the role of Noah, the universal father facing familiar problems with his three sons, his wife, and the task laid upon him by divine appointment.

"If you thought Noah had trouble with two-by-twoing the animals, you should see how he handles his sons and their respective mates," Mr. Thick said. "Two by Two" is a comely little comedy not frequently offered. It's one the whole family can enjoy to brighten the winter doldrums.

Noah's story unfolds with a score by Richard Rodgers. It is Rodgers' last musical and includes such beguiling melodies as "Something, Somewhere," "I Do Not Know a Day I Did Not Love You" and the fast moving title song, "Two by Two."

Appearing with Mr. Thick will be Beverly Gorchuck as Noah's wife, Esther, Matthew Wright as Japheth, the rebellious and idealistic youngest son, Doug Watson as the merry opportunist and capitalistic son, Shem, and Bruce Curless as Ham, the oafish loafer.

Teri Maioriello and Janet Cantore return to the Off-Broadstreet Theatre stage in the roles of Leah, Rachel and the comic Goldie to round out the cast.

Michael McCaughey is directing. Musical director is Scott Ward who doubles on the piano. He is joined by Timothy Smith on percussion with Robert Speidell playing bass.

Performances of "Two by Two" are Thursday through Saturday, February 7 through March 2, with dessert at 7 p.m. and curtain at 8 p.m. Sunday performances are February 16 and 23, with dessert at 6 p.m. and curtain at 7 p.m. Admission is $12.50. For reservations, contact The Off-Broadstreet Theatre box office at 5 South Greenwood Avenue, Hopewell, N.J. telephone (609) 466-2766.

shown from Monday through Wednesday at 7:30 and 9:15 each evening

Rohmer's setting is the coast of Normandy in late summer, where his six characters, ranging in age from 15 to 40, compete in a low-key "triathlon" of sailing, wind-surfing, and sexual deception. Each of the six works diligently — and at cross purposes — to enlighten someone else about the true nature of love, and what follows is an erotic merry-go-round leading to bruised feelings, concealed truths, and self-deception

"Pauline at the Beach" is not a farce, although it does contain many farcical elements as its six protagonists meet, eat, drink, dance, swim, make love and, of course, as is true in any Rohmer movie — talk. In his most accessible film to date, Rohmer gives us the tangled moral complexity and perversity of middle-class life itself

Tickets for "Pauline at the Beach" and other Movies-from-McCarter are $3 for single admission, available at the door of Kresge Auditorium one half hour before screening

TOURS TO ENGLAND

For Theatre, Music

McCarter Associates will sponsor two tours to England this spring

The London-Stratford-Bristol Theatre Tour is from

SING-ALONG: Kevin Roth stars in Oscar Bingo and Buddies as part of McCarter Theatre's "Crackerjacks" series for kids. Mr. Roth will be performing at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. on Saturday, February 9 at The Art People Place, 102 Witherspoon Street.

May 11-22 The Music in Historic Places Tour is from June 5-17 There are still spaces available on both tours

The Theatre Tour will be led for the third consecutive year by McCarter's Artistic Director Nagle Jackson. The 11-day trip includes theatre performances at the National Theatre, the Barbican, the Royal Court and the Bristol Old Vic. It also includes a concert, a ballet at Covent Garden, discussions with theatre professionals and backstage tours

The Music in Historic Places will concentrate on three major festivals: Bath, London and Aldeburgh. In addition to concerts in Bath and Aldeburgh, there will be an opera at Covent Garden and an evening at Sutton Place in Surrey.

For further information, contact McCarter Theatre, 91 University Place, Princeton, 08540, or call 452-6122

FOLK SINGER SET

For Children's Program, Kevin Roth will present a musical sing-along for children in "Oscar Bingo and Buddies," one of the programs offered in McCarter Theatre's "Crackerjacks" series for kids. Mr. Roth will perform on Saturday, at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. at The Art People Place on Witherspoon Street.

An unusual aspect of Kevin Roth's program is that he plays the dulcimer, a stringed instrument often associated with mountain folk music and noted for its sweet sound. Mr. Roth will play such old favorites as "On Top of Old Smokey," "Old McDonald," and "The Bear Went Over the Mountain," with his own arrangements and adaptations. He will also play songs of his own composition.

Accompanying Mr. Roth's

provisational theater for children to Burlington and Camden County audiences in early 1984, playing to full houses and wide acclaim.

"Participation from the audience is a vital and fun part of each production," Mr. Curless says. "When the children help name the baby princess and talk directly with the performers, they enter an entirely new dimension and world of imagination. They are being introduced to the best of theater today so they will fully appreciate the theater of tomorrow."

"As adults we often tend to forget that the old time fairy tales had far more excitement and meat than the cartoons of today," he adds. "That's why they have weathered the onslaught of pale imitations. In these improvisational productions, we enlarge upon the child's imagination and involvement."

Appearing with Curless will be Ellen Sheinkin, Inez Zubrin, Patricia Hihbert, Glen Funkhouser and Lou DeMeis.

The children's classic series begins with "Sleeping Beauty" on Friday, February 15, at 10 a.m. and Saturday, February 16 at 1 p.m. "Hansel and Gretel" will be presented on March 22 and 23. The series concludes with "Cinderella" on April 26 and 27.

Tickets are $3.50 each of $9 for the series of three shows. Group discounts are available. The Off Broadway Theatre is located at 5 South Greenwood Avenue in Hopewell. For information or reservations, call the Off

'TOM FOOLERY' PLANNED
By Pennington Players. Pennington Players will present Tom Foolery, a musical revue based on the work of satirical songwriter Tom Lehrer.

Performances will be given at 8:30 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, February 15 and 16, 22 and 23, and March 1 and 2 at the Playbarn, West Franklin Street, Pennington. The cast will include Bill Agness, Jeff Glazer, Pete LaBriola and Jim Morris.

Tickets are $8 each, including a refreshment. For further information and reservations call 737-0731.

TROUPE TO TOUR

Nutrition Centers. Four performances by the Creative Theatre Unlimited Troupe will be presented in February and March for joint audiences of the young and the elderly during a county-wide tour.

Funding for this program has been made available in part by a grant from the Mercer County Cultural and Heritage Commission and the New Jersey State Council on the Arts. The program will provide an opportunity for senior and junior citizens to come together for a theatrical occasion.

The audiences for this special series will include groups with the Mercer County Nutrition Program for the Elderly at sites throughout Mercer County. Children from neighboring schools, nursery schools, and day care centers will be the guests of the seniors.

TALENT EXPO

In Franklin, Franklin Community Players will hold its Talent Expo '85 Friday and Saturday at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday at 2, at the Sampson G. Smith School auditorium.

Noreen Dunn Parks is co-director with Molly Nanasy Gershwin, Billy Idol, lip sync, a jazz sax, an original piano composition, break dancing and George Warren's Solid Gold Dancers are part of the 24-act show.

Beginning at 7 p.m. at the opening night performance, registration for the spring semester of Franklin Adult - Community Education will take place. Registration will continue February 11, 12 and 13 at Franklin High School from 4 to 8 p.m.

For tickets, call (201) 545-4229 or (201) 873-2400 x 221. Tickets are also available at the door.

LEADERS ANNOUNCED

For McCarter Capital Drive. Edward E. Matthews has agreed to serve as general chairman of McCarter Theatre's Capital Fund Drive. Ruth R. Wilson has been named vice-chairman. The committee chairmen are Governor Brendan T. Byrne for foundations, Edward M. Crane, Jr. for individuals and Dennis C. Fill for corporations.

Mr. Matthews has served on the board of trustees of McCarter Theatre since 1979 and is currently in his third year as president of the board.

Of the $4 million which McCarter needs to complete the renovations on its 54-year-old theatre, approximately $1.7 million has already been raised. Improvements will include renovation of the auditorium with the new heating and ventilation systems and the installation of air-conditioning. Existing lobbies will be expanded and improved, and additional lobby space will be added. Renovations will begin in May, and are scheduled to be completed in November.

Premiere of Edward T. Cone's "Cadenzas" Is Highlight of Chamber Symphony Concert

A large and enthusiastic audience gathered at Princeton High School auditorium Sunday afternoon to hear the Chamber Symphony of Princeton in the second of this season's performances. Musical director Portia Sonnenfeld conducted a long program which featured three soloists and a world premiere performance of a work written by Princeton composer Edward T. Cone.

Since February marks the 300th anniversary of the birth of G. F. Handel, it was appropriate that Sonnenfeld began this performance with the "Entrance of the Queen of Sheba" from that composer's oratorio, "Solomon." This piece made use of two of the orchestra's strongest elements, the strings and the oboes, and thus made for a very enjoyable reading. The oboists, Martha Helms and Alan Birnbaum, deserve particular note for their fine rendering of Handel's exposed and imitative writing for these instruments.

Prior to the performance of Edward T. Cone's "Cadenzas" for oboe, violin and strings, the composer gave an informative and detailed description, from sketchbook to score, of the evolution of his piece. The work's title was most appropriate since the entire piece consisted of episodic exchanges between the solo instruments followed by responses from the strings. In these responses, the composer used thematic fragments presented by the oboe and violin and developed them into sinuous melodies which were sometimes treated fugally. The result was a work which was eminently listenable and comprehensible.

The soloists, Nora Post, oboe, and Cyrus Stevens, violin, performed this demanding score admirably. Their timbres blended nicely and they executed the work's technically difficult passages with ease. Their mutual sense of musicality gave a feeling of unity and ensemble to this piece's rhapsodic solo parts.

A notable aspect of the new image of this orchestra is its expansion of forces. Indicative of this expansion was the inclusion on the program of Beethoven's Symphony No. 1 in C Major (Op. 21). This work was generally very well played despite some untidiness in the strings near the end of the work. The first and last movements were given spirited performances, while the second had a pleasantly moving light.

The final piece on the program brought violinist David Arben to the stage in a performance of Mozart's Violin Concerto No. 5 in A Major (K. 219). Arben is known throughout the world as a fine concerto soloist, and this performance upheld that reputation. Arben's sound was sweet and lyrical, and his technique fluid.

While the beginning of the first movement of this piece felt a little under-rehearsed, certain passages were played with great beauty. The second movement was notable for its vibrant intensity and its feeling of security and purpose. The Tempo di menuetto, which closed the work and the concert, received a charmingly witty reading.

MUSIC

'ST. JOHN PASSION' SET

By Choir and Glee Club. The Princeton University Glee Club and the Princeton University Chapel Choir, conducted by Prof. Walter Nollner, will present performances of the "Johannes-Passion" (St. John Passion) by Johann Sebastian Bach at 8 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, February 15 and 16, in Richardson Auditorium (Alexander Hall) on the Princeton University campus.

Celebrating the 300th anniversary of the year of Bach's birth, these concerts will be the main observance of the tercentenary year by the two choruses during this spring semester.

The Evangelist will be sung by Frank Hoffmeister, a tenor perhaps best known for his Bach recordings on Nonesuch records. Mr. Hoffmeister has appeared frequently in Princeton, in the "St. Matthew Passion," the Stravinsky

Frank Hoffmeister

"Svadyebkah" and concert performances of Mozart's "Idomeneo" among others.

The other soloists are all members of the Glee Club and Chapel Choir, and include singers who have appeared frequently before the Princeton public. They are Cyndy Brown, Donald Kruger, Sebastian Knowles, Elizabeth Dabney and Robin DeWitt. The orchestra is especially gathered for these concerts.

Tickets are now available at $4 for reserved section, $3 for general admission and $2 for students, by phoning 452-3048 weekday mornings, or at the box office in Richardson Auditorium on the days of the performances.

PIANIST TO PLAY

At McCarter. Pianist Emanuel Ax, regarded as one of the finest American pianists of his generation, will return to McCarter Theatre for his second recital appearance on the Music-at-McCarter Series on Wednesday, February 13, at 8 p.m.

Winner of both the Artur Schnabel and Avery Fisher Prizes, Mr. Ax will open his program with Haydn's Sonata in F, followed by Ravel's "Valses Nobles et Sentimentales," and two of Liszt's famous piano paraphrases on themes from the operas "Aida" and "Rigoletto." The second half of the recital will be devoted in its entirety to Chopin's "Four Ballades."

Stage seats for the Ax concert are still available from the McCarter Box Office for $12. Standing room can be purchased for $7.50. Call McCarter's box office at 452-5200 to order tickets or for more information.

FOLK SINGER DUE

For Concert at YMCA. The Princeton Folk Music Society will feature Roy Harris in concert on Friday, February 15 at 8 p.m. at the YMCA.

Roy Harris is the only full time professional who sings totally unaccompanied, using backing musicians only for recording, when artists such as Alistair Anderson, Martin Carthy and Muckram Wakes have done the playing. He is known as an engaging and entertaining live performer with a voice said to rank with the best on the folk scene.

Singing a repertoire that is 80 percent traditional songs with the rest being a mixture of contemporary material, parodies, Music Hall, even the occasional 30's pop. Mr. Harris has played every kind of club.

Admission is $5 for adults, $4 for students, $4 for Society members, $2 for children and senior citizens. There are no advance sales. Memberships are available at the door. For further information, call 924-9143.

SOPRANO IS SOLOIST

With N.J. Symphony. Kenneth Schermerhorn will lead the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra in its next area concert Saturday, February 16, at 8:30 in the Trenton War Memorial Auditorium. The Spanish-born soprano Victoria de los Angeles will be the soloist.

Mme. de los Angeles will sing two works for which she is especially known. In the opening half of the program, she will perform Ravel's Sheherazade, a work she first performed with the N.J. Symphony during the 1972-73 season at the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts. She will also sing Xavier Montsalvatge's Canciones negras, a work completed in 1946 in which the Spanish composer combines Catalan and African influences in five "popular" songs in the West Indian idiom.

The concert will also include Mozart's Symphony No. 41 in C major, K. 551, the "Jupiter" and Prokofiev's Symphony No. 7 in C-sharp minor, Op. 131. Each work is the last symphonic composition of its composer. The "Jupiter," composed in Vienna and completed in August, 1788 is the most "learned" and technically adroit of Mozart's symphonies and is one of the most emotionally vibrant and varied. Prokofiev's 7th, composed in 1951-52, a year before the composer's death, is managed the Westminister characterized by a feeling of Symphonic Choir working gentleness and simplicity, which can also be found in his Classical Symphony of 1917.

Tickets are $16.50 to $9.50, with $5 tickets available to students and senior citizens one-half hour before performances. Tickets may be ordered and charged by calling (201) 624-8203.

FRENCH HORN, PIANO

Recital at Church. Patrick Milando of New York City will give a French horn recital with Clarence Chang on the piano Sunday, February 24, at 2 at the Unitarian Church, Cherry Hill Road.

The program will include works by Schumann, Strauss, Corelli, Hindemith and other composers. Admission is $4 and $2 for senior citizens.

ARRAU TO PLAY

At Rutgers. Claudio Arrau will present a solo piano recital at Rutgers University on Thursday, February 7. The program will begin at 8 p.m. in the College Avenue Gymnasium, and is the third in this season's University Concert Series.

The world-renowned virtuoso, appearing at Rutgers the day after his 82nd birthday, will perform works by Beethoven, Schumann, Chopin and Liszt. Mr. Arrau is particularly celebrated as an interpreter of Beethoven and has recorded all 32 of the composer's sonatas and his five concertos.

Mr. Arrau has performed all over the world, with every major symphony orchestra as well as in solo recital. Like many great pianists, he was a child prodigy. Born in Chile on February 6, 1903, he gave his first recital in Santiago at age 5.

Tickets range in price from $17 to $8, with discounts for senior citizens. Rutgers alumni, students, faculty and staff. They are available from the Concert Box Office, Rutgers University Arts Services, 358 George Street, New Brunswick, N.J. 08901, telephone (201) 932-7511 between 12:30 and 4 p.m. Mondays through Fridays.

Tickets will also be sold at the gymnasium the evening of the concert.

NAMED TOUR DIRECTOR

At Choir College. Linda M. Reilly of Bernardsville, has been named tour manager and assistant to the artistic director and principal conductor of Westminster Choir College. She is responsible for coordinating the tours of the Westminster Choir working directly with Columbia Artists.

with the management of Lincoln Center and the Philadelphia Academy of Music and with the conductors of the New York Philharmonic and Philadelphia Orchestra.

Miss Reilly is a graduate of Westminster Choir College and a former member of the Westminster Choir. She has toured with the Choir, performing at the Spoleto Festivals in Italy and the United States.

MORNINGS
Tom George Pastels, This series of pastels by Princeton-based artist Tom George delineates a tranquil world in which everything seemingly remains the same and yet nothing remains the same. For a period of two months last fall, George kept watch at a quiet tree-lined pond behind the Institute for Advanced Study. Like Monet, in his famous 'series' paintings of the Rouen Cathedral, the artist chronicled the effect of changing light on an unchanging subject. These works are considerably smaller than George's generously scaled oil paintings and retain a closer link with the world of images. But like the larger canvases, veritable explosions of saturated color, these pastels are also filled with the rich interplay of light and color. Now on exhibit at the Princeton Gallery of Fine Art, some two dozen pastel works are time-titled, ranging from "October 3, 6 AM" to "November 28 Noon. Within this bracket the mood shifts from the soft hues of departing autumn to brooding evocations of approaching winter. The woods and the pond change at one moment luminous and inviting; at another, somber and forbidding, all color gone.

Some of these studies have an ethereal, evanescent quality, others are almost representational, appearing just a little out of focus. The artist carefully translates to his medium the most dramatic as well as the most subtle transformations. "October 10, 7 AM" and "October 13, 7 AM" are diaphanous veils of pale color, one on another, evoking light refracted through early morning haze. On October 8, same time, the scene is dramatically splashed with bursts of hot reds and vivid pinks. The colors of October 17, vibrant and diffuse, are reminiscent of a late Turner painting. Icy greens swirl on the pond, disappearing into the middle distance. The surrounding trees, as autumn advances, put on a dazzling display of oranges, golds, umbers and rich reds.

On November 28 the series comes to an end. At 11 AM the pond is dark, threatening. Cold pale yellows announce the imminent arrival of rain. By Noon, thunder clouds are rolling low across the landscape. The storm has broken. Tom George is a master colorist and through his informed use of a demanding medium, demonstrates that even an apparently innocuous little pond is capable of an amazing display of pyrotechnics.

Paintings at Abelle Gallery. The works of Joy Barth are marked by a variety of styles. It is difficult to realize that "Country Garden," an impressionistic flower study done in shades of pink and green reminiscent of a Lily Pulitzer sun dress, is by the same hand as "La Neige Neuve," a sharply angular abstract oil on canvas that is dominated by thickly textured blocks of pure white. The artist, a native of Pittsburgh, works in various styles simultaneously, often working her way through a series in each. However, she admits to being particularly affected by the jutting rocks and mountains of Pennsylvania coal country, especially when they're under winter coats of snow.

"Even in the summer I think of snow," says Ms. Barth. "I'm very preoccupied with white. Those paintings are like going home."

In this abstract series, including "White Silence," "February Whites" and "Rising Moon, Setting Sun," the artist's interest in cubism and the relationship of architectural forms is present in the structural planes of the stark mountain landscapes. Another element in these abstracts, becoming bolder as the series progresses, is a diagonal slash that creates the illusion of horizon.

Although the artist says she once painted only in tan, brown and white, her skies are richly colored.

Thinly applied washes in a rainbow palette of Easter egg colors radiate upward giving the effect of the aurora borealis, or spill downward onto the heavily applied white pigment below.

Among other works in this exhibition are several figurative studies, including an oil on canvas in which a crumpled layer of rice paper creates an interesting veiled effect, and two large floral works in mixed media.

Despite the quality of the other works, however, it's the series of snowy abstracts that steals the show.

Cityscapes at Back Door Gallery. New York has seldom looked better than in this collection of photographic blow-ups by Michael Kingsford. It's easy to see why photographers seem to be involved in a never-ending love affair with The Big Apple. All the standard sights — and sites — are here: the Brooklyn Bridge, Empire State Building, Statue of Liberty.

Most of these photos reflect the hues of daybreak or dusk, where light and dark are shifting balance. The Brooklyn Bridge is caught in the rain, the sky pinkish in early morning light. A lone walker, head bent against the elements, moves toward the camera, his only companion a solitary street lamp.

Kingsford's photos are distinguished by odd angles that juxtapose familiar elements in an unfamiliar way. Through the magic of a telephoto lens, the elegantly Art Deco Chrysler Building is seen as if cheek by jowl with Con Ed's red and white industrial stacks across the river.

Finally, in what could be viewed as a pointed commentary, the Empire State Building is seen as though side by side with the twin dominoes of the World Trade Center. The older building completely overwhelms its neighbor. The World Trade Center may in reality be physically taller, but it is still the Empire State Building that captures the imagination of all those who visit the city.

BRITISH ART IS FOCUS

OF PAA Trip. The Princeton Art Association has scheduled a visit to the Yale Center for British Art on Tuesday, March 12 to see two exhibitions, one featuring the work of George Stubbs and the other displaying the work of one of Britain's leading contemporary painters, Howard Hodgkin. The Stubbs exhibit, organized by the Tate Gallery in London, establishes Stubbs in the foremost rank of British art, equal with Gainsborough and Reynolds, his contemporaries.

Howard Hodgkin, 52, has only in the last decade assumed a prominent place among contemporary painters. A Newsweek review of his work states, "his pictures command a wall... A surrender to the senses, in a Hodgkin, does not seem a loss to the intelligence."

The bus will leave from the Princeton Shopping Center at 8 a.m. and return at about 8 p.m. Reservations open on February 6; payment must be received by February 25.

For additional information, call the Princeton Art Association at 921-9173.

SEE ITALY

And Paint, Vincent Ceglia, a faculty member of the Visual Arts Department at Mercer County Community College will, for the eleventh year, lead two painting workshops in Italy. The first session will take place in a new location on Lake Orta from June 5 to June 25. The second workshop will be from June 27 to July 17 on Lake Maggiore. Both are for 21 days.

Painting sessions will take place daily, except Monday, and the weekends will be free for excursions to museums, galleries, artists' studios, historical sites, and monuments.

Both locations are in the northern lake region in the pre-Alp area, 50 minutes from Switzerland and northwest of Milan, which is about an hour's drive. Lake Lugano, Lake Como, Verona and Venice are all in easy reach.

For more information call Vincent Ceglia at (215) 493-4498.

EXHIBITIONS

Among the new artists featured at Abelle Gallery, 20 Nassau Street are Marge Chavooshian, watercolors; Jean Appleton, oils; and Michael McMath, bronzes. In addition, etchings by Renoir, Manet and Cassatt are on display.

A number of area artists will be represented in the exhibit coordinated by the New Jersey Chapter of the Women's Caucus for Art at the Anne Reid Art Gallery at Princeton Day School. The exhibit will run from February 8 through March 4.

Area artists whose work is included in the show include Hope Carter of Hopewell, Hannah Sink of Rocky Hill, and Lore Lindenteld, Marie Sturken, and Linda White of Princeton.

The Women's Caucus for

Defeated by Penn at Jadwin, Princeton Basketball Team Faces 'Must Win' Situation against Cornell and Columbia

Penn's basketball coach, Craig Littlepage, isn't counting the Princeton basketball team out of the Ivy race yet, and given the Tigers' late-season heroics the last two years, it probably is too soon. But, after the Quakers' convincing 59-49 triumph in Jadwin last Saturday night, the knockout punch may be just one game away. If the Orange and Black loses either one in Jadwin this weekend, you can start looking to next year.

Cornell on Friday night, and Columbia the following evening, will provide the opposition. Both contests will start at 7:30.

Both teams sport 3-1 records, beating each other on the road, and then defeating visiting Yale and Brown two steps quicker than the Orange and Black all evening.

On offense, the hot (six for six) shooting of sophomore transfer Perry Bromwell carried the Red and Blue in the first half. Penn never trailed as Bromwell hit the first basket and the last in the first half, helping to build a 30-18 lead at the intermission.

Princeton had a brief chance to close the gap at the beginning of the second half when Penn could not score for the first four minutes, but failed. Later a steal by Smyth that led to a three-point play allowed the Tigers to climb within five, 46-41.

Bot time was running out, and Princeton had to foul to get the ball and the Quakers hit the majority of their one-and-one situations. Princeton was outscored 19-3 at the foul line.

Add to that 20 for 33 shooting by the Red and Blue, against 23 for 44 by the Tigers, and you have a solid victory for the visitors. Not only does Princeton have trouble making half its shots from the field, but there is never anyone looking for an offensive rebound.

"We've got to find some scoring," Carril lamented after the game. "Our offense has been bad all year. We aren't looking for backdoor, don't get tip-ins, don't get rebounds. I don't know if we can get out of this hole."

Given the inexperience of his personnel, this may well be the year the Tigers stay hurried in the Ivy standings.

—Jeb Stuart

LEVY SURROUNDED: Howie Levy had no room to operate against a swarming Penn defense Saturday night, forcing the Tigers to do almost all of their shooting from the outside. It wasn't good enough and Quakers won, 59-49.

year under Buddy Mahar. Any replacement for Mahar would have been an improvement. Szoke may make the Lions a contender.

Szoke has melded a bunch of relative unknowns into a decent team, with no one player standing out. Tom Gwydir led in scoring against Yale Friday night with 15 points. Sean Couch had 13. Dale Smith was the hero in Saturday's victory over Brown, sinking seven free throws in the last four minutes. Mark Settles was leading the team in scoring before last weekend with a 11.1 average.

Tigers' Problems Persist. Pete Carril has brought this team a long way since the early days of December, but he may not be able to take it much further. Without a Billy Ryan, it lacks the ability to get the ball inside with any regularity.

Howie Levy has been reduced to about half his effectiveness of a year ago. This reduces the Tigers to shots from the outside, and they can not hit these with enough consistency to win ball games.

Freshman Dave Orlandini showed an ability to can some long jumpers (he finished with a team high 14 points), but neither Joe Scott nor Aaron Belz had much success. Coming off the bench, John Smyth made a couple, but was never a factor.

Give credit to a hustling Penn defense that rarely allowed Princeton an open shot. The Quakers were a good quintets last weekend. That's good enough for a tie for first with Harvard at the moment, but both should fall in the standings after the visit here and to Penn's Palestra.

Cornell is the better team on paper, and has the better overall record at 9-7. It lost only Brad Bomba from the team that finished in a tie for second last year. Sophomore guard John Bajusz, who made his mark in the league as a freshman, is the team's leading scorer.

Center Ken Bantam, junior Drew Martin and junior Len Palmer are the other returning players. Cornell stands a better chance than Columbia of making a serious run for the title.

The Lions, under first-year coach Wayne Szoke, a Carril protegee, have climbed to just one game under .500 at 7-8. That's only one game less than the Light Blue won all last Here's an amazing fact that shows you can still have great success in sports even if you fail many times. Ty Cobb, who had the highest lifetime batting average in big league baseball history (.367), actually failed to get a hit in more than SEVEN THOUSAND times at bat! Cobb went to bat 11,437 times in his big league career and made 4,192 hits for his .367 average. But that also means he failed to hit in 7,245 at bats — yet he was the greatest hitter ever.

Hockey Team Still Not on Par with Cornell, But Has Good Chance of Making Playoffs

The hockey faithful gathered at Baker Rink Sunday afternoon for the official rededication ceremonies of the refurbished arena, and saw what $3 million can create. The money was well spent.

Unfortunately, money can't buy hockey players, at least not the Ivy League variety, and the improvements in the play of the Tiger hockey team are coming along slowly at best, and are certainly not as obvious.

To the disappointment of the crowd of more than 2,000, Cornell, one of the league's powers for many years, skated to a 5-2 triumph over the Orange and Black. Princeton has not beaten the Big Red since a 4-2 win at Ithaca in 1981.

The loss showed once again that the Tigers still are not quite on a par with the top teams in the East. But the improvement is there, and it gives more cause for optimism than anything else.

A much smaller crowd Friday night saw a much better game, a 4-2 victory over Colgate, a team ahead of the Orange and Black in the ECAC Division I standings. That, coupled with two losses by Brown, has moved coach Jim Higgins' skaters ahead of the Bruins and into the eighth and final playoff spot.

Eight games remain on the Princeton schedule, and Princeton needs to capture at least four of them to be assured of a spot (the actual number of wins needed will depend on how Brown and Dartmouth do). On a two-game swing through New England this weekend, Sunday afternoon's contest with Dartmouth will be key. The Tigers defeated the Big Green here in November, 5-4, in overtime, and need another victory to keep ahead. Dartmouth is just 3-11 in Division I.

Friday night Princeton will meet Harvard at Cambridge, and no one figures they will have much of a chance against the 11-2-1 Crimson. They did give the Cantabs a decent battle in Baker Rink, losing just 4-3.

Cornell Too Strong. The Tigers played a decent game against Cornell, too, but once the Big Red took a two-goal lead in the second period, 3-1, there seemed little hope of a Princeton comeback.

The problem lies with the low-scoring offense, which could get the puck into the visitors' zone, but still lacks the ability to finish off a play successfully. Time and again, the Tigers found themselves with the puck within a few feet of the Cornell net, but could not score.

Higgins was unhappy with the play of his first line, Steve MacDonald, Allan Gray and Pat Brodeur. "I really thought we would attack better than we did," he commented. "It was a big game, but not everyone played that way."

On the plus side, however, the defense generally looked pretty good, and was guilty of only one miscue that led to a Cornell score. In the past, the Tigers have been guilty of giving away the puck in their zone several times during the course of a game. Princeton has also cut down on the number of penalties it takes. It was whistled for only two, while Cornell had seven.

Still, the Tigers did manage to score first, converting their second power play opportunity at 14:34 of the first period. Tim Driscoll fired a pass from behind the net to Cliff Abrecht on the left point. Abrecht's slap shot was deflected past goalie Doug Dadswell by Tim Oshier.

Unfortunately, the Tigers could not hold that 1-0 lead until the end of the period. A turn around shot by Peter Natyshak from the right face off circle beat Dave Marotta with just over a minute left.

Two goals in the second period put the Big Red on top to stay. The first at 3:24 was a hard shot from 20 feet out that hit Marotta and deflected into the net. The second at 13:39 resulted from a defensive lapse on Princeton's part that allowed a Cornell forward to skate in unmolested and score.

Any distant hopes of a Tiger rally in the third period were very short-lived. Duanne Moeser notched his 50th career goal when he swooped in from the right and tipped in a perfect crossing pass from Pete Marcov. Just 19 seconds had elapsed in the final period.

Princeton did draw to within 4-2 with five minutes remaining on a fine, unassisted effort by sophomore forward Dave Downing. He picked up a loose puck in the Cornell zone and fired a 25-footer from the right side past Dadswell and into the lower lefthand corner.

The time and the situation were perfect for the Tigers to relive one of the most memorable games ever played in Baker Rink, the last time they beat Cornell here in 1978. Trailing, 4-2, they pulled the goalie, scored twice in regulation time to tie the score, and then won, 5-4, in overtime.

History did not repeat, however. This time, with Marotta out of the net, Cornell wasted no time adding its fifth and final goal.

Colgate Dominated. Friday night, the Tigers managed to squeeze three goals out of a hushel of opportunities, while fine goaltending by Marotta limited Colgate to just two.

The Orange and Black dominated play for most of the 60 minutes, firing 49 shots at goalie Jeff Cooper, but saw countless chances slip away. Tiger fans who numbered a little over 1,300 couldn't relax until Greg Hamilton's empty net goal with 16 seconds remaining.

After a scoreless first period, the visitors drew first blood at one minute into the second, when Marotta was beaten from close range. The Tigers tied it a little over three minutes later when Tim Oshier whipped a quick pass from behind the net to Tom Schustarich in the slot. He beat Cooper with a backhand in the upper right hand corner.

Just 16 seconds later, however, the Red Raiders grabbed the lead again when Marotta directed the rebound of a hard shot directly to another Colgate player who fired the puck by him. It took the Tigers another eight minutes to tie the score again. Pat Brodeur slipped the disk between the legs of a Colgate player, swept around him and put it past Cooper.

The third period emerged as crucial, and Princeton did not disappoint. Just at the end of a Colgate penalty (in fact the play really developed with the Red Raiders a man short) Allan Gray took a pass from MacDonald, skated to the top of the slot, and fired a bullet that found an opening between Cooper's pads and ricocheted into the net.

Gray's tally came at 5:05, and although the Tigers had several chances thereafter, they could not get an insurance goal until Hamilton's shot into an empty net. However, the defense did a fine job of not allowing the visitors the tying score. Marotta had 27 saves to his credit.

PHS GIRLS WIN

Then Lose in Basketball. Winless since January 4, the Princeton High School girls basketball team experienced the thrill of victory again last week when it outlasted Hamilton, 48-46. Three days later, the Little Tigers dropped a league contest to Lawrence High, 55-34, to drop to 2-9 in league competition. Overall, PHS is 4-10.

This week, coach Joyce Jones' squad will entertain town rival Stuart Wednesday at 3:45, Nottingham Friday evening at 8, and then travel to Pennington for an 8 p.m. game

Monday, Tuesday, first-round play in the Mercer County Tournament begins.

Against Lawrence Friday, Tomi Morton connected for a game-high 20 points, and teammate Tracey Hemingway added 12 to account for all but two of Princeton's points. But the two were overshadowed by the greater balance of the home team.

Donna Fracella scored 16 for the Cardinals, Chris Turner added 11 and Heather Maple contributed nine points and 13 rebounds. Lawrence (6-9) outscored PHS in every period.

Earlier, PHS seemed to be in firm control against hapless Hamilton (one win, 13 losses) when it outscored the Hornets, 22-10, in the second period to take a 14-point halftime lead.

The lead vanished in the third period when the home team rallied to tie the game at 36. During the final eight minutes, PHS built a small lead and managed to hang on for the win.

This time Hemingway paced the Little Tigers with 19 points, while Morton had 15. Nadine Morris and Cassie Vogt added six points apiece.

Debbie Zsenak and Michelle Williams combined for 21 Hamilton points.

PDS SCORES EASY WIN Over Morristown-Beard. After going up against area high schools and prep powers like Lawrenceville and Peddie, the Princeton Day basketball team had an enjoyable breather last Wednesday, beating Morristown-Beard, 68-29.

There aren't many games like that on the Panthers' schedule (Wardlaw was another), but they are always fun when they come along. Bill Noonan had 18 points to lead all scorers, Charlie Jacques tallied 13 and Jon McConaughy had 12.

This past Tuesday, PDS was scheduled to play Pennington in a game that will be crucial in determining the seeding for the Prep "B" tournament. Rutgers Prep probably has the top spot sewed up, leaving PDS and the Raiders to battle for the second position and the home court advantage that comes with it.

Princeton Day will meet Neumann Prep away on Friday, and end its regular season a week from Friday against Academy of New Church Prep B playoff games begin next Wednesday.

Girls Win Two More. The PDS girls raised their record to 9-2, with an easy win over day Stuart last Wednesday, 70-38, and another Friday, 64-45 over Pennington.

The Panthers were never really extended in either contest. Against Stuart, Catherine Barone led PDS with 23 points, scoring almost at will from in close. Karen Callaway bombed away from the outside, and tallied 21. Becky Stoltzfus added 15.

Stuart, which lost 63-29 to PDS earlier in the season, managed to make a game out of it for the first quarter and a half, before PDS turned the contest into a rout. Stuart has won just once in 11 tries this winter.

Pennington hung in there a little longer, and the two teams were tied 31-31 at the half. However, the second half was all PDS as it outscored the Raiders 12-6 in the third quarter and 21-8 in the final period. Callaway netted a season-high 30 points, Stoltzfus had 17, and Barone eight.

After a game scheduled to be played against Kent Place this past Tuesday, PDS will meet Hun next Monday. The day, and end its regular season a week from Friday against Academy of New Church Prep B playoff games begin next Wednesday.

swimming teams, which were scheduled to meet Notre Dame earlier this week, will engage in their final dual meet on Friday when they oppose Hamilton at 3:45 in the Hamilton pool. The Mercer County diving and swimming tournaments will follow later in the month.

Last week, the PHS girls team increased its record to 4-3 with an exciting 88-83 victory over Lawrence. The boys team continued to struggle, losing to the Cardinals, 113-54. This is the first year that Princeton High has competed in swimming.

Lawrence had an edge in victories in individual events in the Lawrenceville School Maman in the 100 free pool, but PHS girls won both medley races and the diving competition and amassed enough seconds and thirds for their victory. Sue Lofgren retained her supremacy in the diving with 275.15 points, while Princeton's Kristy Cramer won the 100 back and Benedicte Callan the 100 breast.

Mei Mei Chow, Callan, Amanda Schivell and Cramer combined to win the 200 medley where PHS also took a third, and the 400 free relay fell to Princeton's Cramer, Suzanne Maman, Schivell and Bridget Mahoney.

Capturing seconds were Mahoney in the 200 free, Sharon Johnson in the 200 IM, Leslie Huckins in the 50 free, Schivell in the 100 fly and Lawrence won six firsts, including two by Sharon Richardson who took the 200 free and 100 fly.

With the exception of the 100 free and diving, the PHS boys were shut out by the strong Lawrence team which won its eighth meet in ten starts.

Allen Aiken won the 100 free in 58.97 and finished second in the 50 free for the Little Tigers. John Cummings won the diving competition with 174.30 points. Lawrence claiming second and third.

Finishing second for PHS were Vic Browning in the 200 free, Cummings in the 200 IM, Aiken in the 50 free, George Fox in the 100 fly and Browning again in the 100 back.

HATTBICK BY ERIC BYLIN

Lifts PDS over Peddie. The Princeton Day hockey team got the revenge it went looking for last Saturday afternoon in Hightstown, but the Panthers had to survive a controversial call by a referee and a faulty clock to achieve a 4-3 overtime victory.

Way back in December when the season began, the Panthers lost to Peddie, 2-1, in overtime on their own ice. Since that time they have lost only one other game, and tied one, while winning eight. Saturday, it was time to even up matters with the Falcons.

It was a dog fight all the way with Princeton Day having the edge in play through the first and second periods, and Peddie coming back to tie the score in the third. That sent the contest into overtime, but this time, PDS got the winning tally.

It came from Eric Bylin, just 23 seconds into the extra session, and was Bylin's third in a standout performance on the afternoon. The senior forward was also credited with an assist on the other goal.

PDS spotted the home team a goal just two minutes into the game, when John Florio scored on a power play. Seconds later, PDS had a man advantage and Bylin wasted no time tying the score at 1-1. Later in the period, Tom Foster, assisted by Bylin and Jack Cook, put PDS up 2-1.

Bylin struck again on another power play opportunity to give the Panthers a 3-1 lead late in the second period. However, that lead lasted only eight seconds. Peddie pulled to with one, 3-2, at that point, and gained some of the momentum back.

Early in the third period, Cook scored what appeared to be the fourth goal, but the state prep school and Mercer referee ruled the puck had not actually gone in the net, and he disallowed the score. Clinging to its one goal lead, PDS watched time start to run out, and then watched in disbelief as the clock did not run through one whole shift of skaters. The referee ticked a mere five seconds off the remaining time.

With 1:08 or thereabouts remaining, Peddie tallied the tying goal sending the game into overtime. However, Bylin turned all the controversy into a happy ending with his final goal. Goalie Brad Smith had 30 saves in the contest, as Peddie outshot the Panthers, 33 to 26.

PDS takes its 9-2-1 record to Lawrenceville Wednesday for what promises to be another tough game. Chestnut Hill Academy will visit PDS on Friday for a 4:30 contest.

HUN FIVE GETS REST

Will Resume Against Peddie. After a much-needed rest from the court, the Hun basketball team will resume action this Wednesday when it entertains Peddie School at 3:30.

In two more regular season games before it starts first-round play in the New Jersey be the fourth goal, but the state prep school and Mercer referee ruled the puck had not actually gone in the net, and he disallowed the score. Clinging to its one goal lead, PDS watched time start to run out, and then watched in disbelief as the clock did not run through

The return to prep school competition follows a grueling week which saw the Raiders oppose Trenton High, Hamilton, West Windsor and Lawrenceville in a six-day span. Hun dropped all four, including a 51-41 decision to Lawrenceville Thursday to fall to 6-11.

"We played everybody pretty tough. I can't ask much more from this team," said Hun coach Pat Kahny. "At least we've been competitive."

Noting that he had to start his first year as head coach with no player with any experience other than Keith Green and with no one on the squad taller than 6-3 (also Green) and considering the punishing schedule that Hun commits itself to every year, "I think we've done a pretty good job," said Kahny with justifiable satisfaction.

No Blowout This Time. Earlier this season at Lawrenceville, Hun was blown out by the Larries, attributable in part to a sick Greene who was playing at half-speed because of a bout with the flu and the absence of another player. This time on Hun's court the Raiders were in the game until the very end. "I never thought there was that much difference between us," said Kahny.

"I think our game plan worked; we did the things we wanted to do, the ball just didn't go into the hole for us," commented Kahny.

The game plan for Hun? Come out in a zone to try to keep Lawrenceville from getting the ball inside. "But they're a good outside shooting team, too," acknowledged Kahny. "One way or another they'll burn you. That's basketball."

The Larries with an impressive 13-2 record jumped to an early 16-7 lead after the first period but Hun came back in the second to force a 24-24 tie at intermission.

In the third period, a three-point play by Green gave Hun a brief one-point lead but the Larries forged ahead again as Hun had trouble getting the ball to drop. When Lawrenceville scored the first four points of the final period it opened up a seven-point lead.

As late as 2:15 to play, two free throws by Green brought Hun to within five, 44-39, but that was as close as the home team was to come. Two long outside shots sandwiched around two free throws enabled Lawrenceville to make it a 10-point final.

Green scored more than half of Hun's points, leading all players with 23, and turned in his usual outstanding performance under the boards. Nick Miller added six points, Tony Martelloni four and Tom Jingo, Bob Salasko, Steve Pick and Dan Kungl two each for Hun.

Pat Torpey with 20 points and Mike Lacopa with 18 combined to lead Lawrenceville to its 10th straight win.

West Windsor by 15. West Windsor used a 22-13 final period spurt the previous day to defeat visiting Hun, 70-55.

Green again was the top point getter for Hun with 20 but no other Raider scored more than seven. West Windsor, in turn, had three in double figures, led by a pair of juniors, Bill Royal and Jay Thompson. The 6-6 Royal connected for 22 points while Thompson, 6-5, added 18. The win was the Pirates' 11th in its last 16 games.

MAT TOURNAMENT SET

For This Weekend. The annual Mercer County Wrestling Tournament will be held Friday and Saturday at Steuart High School.

Preliminary matches will begin Friday afternoon, with the semis set for Saturday, followed by the championship and consolation matches in the evening. Peddie School is the defending team champion, but observers of the sport predict this year's event will be wide open with no one team a solid favorite.

Both Princeton High and Hun School will be among the 16 team field seeking to claim the team title.

Realistically, neither can expect to challenge for the team championship, which will probably end in a dogfight among Peddie, West Windsor and Hightstown, but both Hun and PHS will try to produce an individual champion.

Princeton's best chances lie in the heavier weights, agreed PHS coach Lee Merrill, who has been sidelined for the past ten days with pneumonia and has not seen his team wrestle its last two dual meets.

They are heavyweight Paul Johnson, who has an 8-2 record including seven pins; 187-pounder Brett Van deBovenkamp, 8-1 with six falls, and Dominic Tracey, the Little Tigers' 167 pounder, who has a 5-4 record. Merrill also predicted his sophomore 121-pounder Jeff Robinson has a chance to advance, although Peddie's undefeated Sal Profaci is expected to win that class.

Van deBovenkamp faces the biggest challenge. The 187-pound division is loaded with standout performers this year, including Lawrenceville's Jim Azarowicz, Lawrenceville School's Greg Kelly, Trenton's Lenwood McCray and Hun School's Seth Wheaton.

Losing Streak Extended. Princeton's losing streak was extended by two more last week, as the Little Tigers were handled easily by Pingry on Friday, 51-15, and by West Windsor, 43-21.

In both matches, PHS, as it has all season, forfeited both the 101 and 108 pound classes. Another forfeit was added in each match last week at 158 pounds where the Little Tigers were left with no replacement after starter Steve Thomas left the team.

The lone winners against Pingry were Van deBovenkamp with a pin in 1:30, Johnson who followed with a pin in 2:42, and Tracey who won a 7-1 decision over Rob Salzberg at 170 pounds.

Pins by Marco Cucchi (114 pounds), Robinson and Van deBovenkamp accounted for all but three of Princeton's points against West Windsor earlier in the week. Robinson's pin came early — 1:27 in the first period.

Tracey got the other three with a 10-6 decision of the Pirates' 168-pounder, Gavin Belske, but Johnson lost for the second time this season when he was edged by WW heavyweight Dale Huang, 6-5.

The two setbacks were the sixth and seventh in a row for the Little Tigers. The team has two dual meets left, starting with Nottingham away this Wednesday night at 8 and concluding with Lawrence at home the following Wednesday evening.

Hun Tourney Cancelled. The eight-team Hun School tournament was a victim of the snow last week. Hun coach Dave Faus said the school had to cancel the event — reluctantly — when three teams could not appear because of weather conditions.

"It's too bad," said Faus. "A lot of work went into it but you can't control the weather." The event will not be rescheduled but will be held again next year.

In the upcoming county tournament, Faus sees Hun heavyweight Nick Kydoneus as having the best chance to win an individual title. Kydoneus, who had a 38-second pin in Hun's 45-20 victory over Pennington School in its only meet last week, has a 13-3 record nine of his victories ending in a pin.

Seth Wheaton owns a 12-2-1 record but is lumped in the 187-pound division where the competition will be intense. Faus added that Steve Wolf, who has a 9-6-1 record, could surprise if he wrestles well. The favorite in his 140-pound division will be West Windsor's undefeated Dave Cummings.

Against Pennington last week, Hun fell behind, 6-0, when Dave Forrest was pinned in 47 seconds by Pennington's 101-pounder Mike Mastropolo. Hun regained the lead, however, when it swept five of the next six bouts and scored a tie at 134 pounds.

Dan Zumbrun and Steve Wolf pinned, Wolf decking Don Fabino in 50 seconds in their 140-pound match, while Nick Wolsy, Dave Gorelick and Mike Sophocles all won decisions for Hun. Martin Koert of Hun and Bob Morse battled to a 7-7 tie.

Hun's Josh Gross pinned in 1:07 at 169 pounds and Kydoneus capped Hun's victory with his quick fall over Faisal Al-Shamir. Both teams forfeited one match.

CHAMPIONSHIP SEASON

PHS Basketball on a Roll. If ability to win the close ones is a mark of a champion, then the Princeton High School basketball team may be heading for a championship season.

Last week the Little Tigers won two more — their third and fourth wins in their past five games — and both outcomes went down to the wire. On Friday, PHS came from behind to nip visiting Lawrence High, 68-64, and earlier it defeated Hamilton by one point in overtime.

"We have been winning more close games this year than ever before," confirmed PHS coach Mary Trotman. "It's another notch in the belt, another step closer to the championship."

"If we continue to make the goals we have set, we could have a very successful year."

Two League Games Next. PHS will play two league games next in the Valley Division of the Colonial Valley Conference where it is currently in first place. Friday it will be at Nottingham High at 8 and on Monday it will host Hopewell Valley in another 8 p.m. contest — two teams the Little Tigers have defeated in previous games this winter.

The Little Tigers were also scheduled to oppose powerful Trenton High this week for the first time in many years. "I watched them play a couple of times this year and I'm sure their coach will take it easy on us," quipped Trotman.

I like to play them," Trotman continued. "It gives Princeton High followers a chance to see an outstanding team play."

PHS was a good team itself against visiting Lawrence Friday — but only in spots. "We started getting sloppy," agreed Trotman. "Our press was not bothering them as it should. When we put more intensity into it, it showed. When it counted we pulled our boot straps up and it got us back in the ball game."

Lawrence, for its part was not the same team that PHS had beaten easily in its second game of the season. "They played a nice game," Trotman said.

Off an 11-point binge by Freddie Young in the second quarter, PHS had a three-point halftime lead but the Cardinals erased it in the third period. When Trotman called time with 2:59 left to play in the third period, Lawrence led, 43-37. When play resumed, PHS increased the pressure on its press and a pair of baskets by Marvin Trotman Jr. and another by Young brought PHS to within two, 47-45, at the start of the final period.

The two teams battled heatedly throughout the final eight minutes. The turning point came when Young pounded in three straight driving layups (off some nice assists) to give PHS a four point lead.

Lawrence's big Marc Petchel cut it to two with a pair of free throws but Trotman, who had a rough night from the floor, connected with a basket for a 57-53 lead. When John Cannon scored for Lawrence and Mike White scored easily off a steal, the Cardinals had tied the score at 57.

Darryl Hemingway's two foul shots broke the tie and then Young took center stage again. He and White both raced for a loose ball and collided. White fell to the floor injured and the ball squibbed off high and behind Young who didn't know where it was at first. When he turned and grabbed it, he raced down the court surrounded by three of his teammates. He slammed the ball in the hoop for a thunderous dunk and a 61-57 lead with 3:47 to play.

Lawrence never came closer than two after that.

ESL Program

language was German.

There are no present plans to institute bilingual education in German this September. Mr. Huchet says that, technically, we should be preparing for a bilingual program in German. But we have no reason to believe the number of German-speaking students needing help will hit 20 again. The state has not yet reacted to Princeton's rather peculiar problem, except to state that its bilingual program need not run from K through 12.

'Survival' English. Princeton's present ESL program provides largely "survival" English. When students complete the program they are still not in a position to function to their full ability in the classroom.

"This second level of bilingual education — bringing students up to function in classrooms — has been traditionally underserved, said Mr. Huchet. He added that the new ESL instructor would be able to help in this area.

He also believes that there is a need for in-service education and that the system has underestimated teachers' need for assistance in this area.

"We have been assuming that, because Princeton's teachers have been dealing with non-English-speaking students so long, they can handle them," he said. "This is a myth. We have overestimated their ability to handle the situation and need to provide them with more materials, teaching strategies, and information on cultures."

According to Mr. Huchet, there are few systems in the nation that have a foreign student population comparable to that of Princeton. Perhaps it may be similar in Berkeley, Cambridge or Palo Alto, he said, but we in Princeton have the unique combination of the University, the Institute and the private sector attracting foreign language speaking people.

"But," he added, "having kids from other countries makes a tremendous contribution to the district, and there's no way to estimate that value in terms of the cost of educating these students."

Five free throws by Trotman in the closing minutes enabled PHS to maintain its lead.

Young finished with a game-high 21 points to lead PHS. Trotman added 18 and Hemingway 10. With the win, PHS climbed to 8-2 in conference play and 9-5 overall.

Can't Protect Lead. "You know we never protect a lead, we've got to keep the crowd from leaving," smiled Trotman, after PHS had edged Hamilton earlier.

The Hornets outscored PHS, 21-15, in the second half and got the game-tying basket with just seconds left on the clock to force the game into overtime.

In OT, Young and Scott Fisher each converted a pair of free throws while Hamilton was held to three points as PHS eked out its 47-46 win.

"We hung on," commented Trotman. "We had a lot of kids sick with the flu but we can't let down now. We've got to keep winning. They (Hamilton) jump well for a small team."

Five players accounted for all of Princeton's points. Hemingway led with 13, Young added 12, Fisher nine, Steve Davis seven and Trotman, six.

HOYAS WIN, 34-32

In Dillon Basketball. In a game last week in the senior division of the Dillon Basketball League, the Hoyas gained first-place with a 34-32 victory over the Yellow Jackets.

The outcome in the close contest was sealed when Darius Young of the Yellow Jackets fouled out early in the fourth period, after leading all scorers with 23 points. Jay Jackson added four points and Mark Payton and John Abernathy also scored for the losers.

The more balanced attack of the 2-0 Hoyas was led by John Thompson and Thad Reynolds who had 14 and 11 points. Mike Switzer, Robert Perle and "Butter" Brown also tallied for the victors.

In junior division action in another close game, the Tar Heels defeated the Hoopers.

26-23. The Tar Heels and the Celtics are both 1-0 in the league while the Hoopers are winless in two games.

Reuben Steiger with 11 points and Mitch Jensen with nine paced the Tar Heels. Teammates Evan Moorehead, Todd VanderVoort and Kale Kasonga also scored for the Heels. The Hoopers were led by Harold Barnshaw's game-high 16 points. Bernard Simpson added seven as he and Barnshaw combined for all the losers' points.
